Charges That Mexicans Have Been Murdered in the United States and Flatly and in Undiplomatic Words Contradicts Statements Made by United States State Department—Says U. S. Was Warned of Villa Raid and Mexico is Not Responsible for It.

Mexico City, June 30.—Formal notice was served today upon the United States government by the de facto government of Mexico that the presence of American troops would not be tolerated any longer upon the soil of Mexico.

This notification was contained in a statement given out by the foreign minister, which is taken as an answer to the recent note of President Wilson.

The Mexican government charges the United States with sending a haughty and discourteous communication and the attention of the United States authorities is called to the fact that Mexicans have been murdered upon the border where no attempt was made to punish the perpetrators.

The Mexican foreign office lays the blame for the killing of Americans at Santa Ysabel upon the victims for attempting a journey across territory that was known to be dangerous.

It is declared that the pursuit of the bandits under the leadership of Francisco Villa was taken up at once after they began their depredations and that the duty of stamping out these outlaws rests with Mexico and not with the United States.

In substance the Mexican government denies the right of American troops to occupy Mexican territory and declares that the presence of United States troops in this country is a violation of the national rights.

The text of the statement follows: "It seems strange that the department of state should show surprise and disappointment for the tone and character of the note of the 22nd of May, which it calls discourteous, when the very same department of state has sent to the Constitutional government not only discourteous but also haughty to say the least.

"During the same period to which the note alludes, 140 Mexicans have been murdered in United States territory by American civilians and the same government authorities have also participated, although the two countries were at peace and in none of these cases, although representations have been made to the department of state through our minister at Washington, the guilty have ever been brought to justice or punished. These acts have been committed by Americans in American territory, or by Texan-Mexicans against the lives and interests of same Americans. The government of Mexico cannot not be held responsible for those acts which have taken place in foreign territory and which could be charged to the nationals of another country. Besides the American government was well aware of all these facts before recognizing the Constitutional government, and it now appears irrelevant or out of place to bring these facts forward so as to make a base for an unjustified negative to withdraw the American troops from our territory.

"It is not true that the Mexican government or its authorities had protected or covered the criminals who are claimed to have committed these depredations and crimes in territory of the United States. This can never be proven by the American government.

"The Constitutional government has done all in its power and has gone beyond all efforts to protect the foreigners who are to be blamed to a great extent for persisting in remaining in places where conditions were not normal, although its own government on various occasions has asked them not to remain there.

"If our own citizens had to suffer a great deal on account of actual conditions, it is not just that foreigners should pretend and expect to be immune.

"The chief of manager who lost his life in the calamity at Santa Ysabel, and who was in charge of the Americans—his name was Charles Watson—persisted in making the Jacinto B. Trevino, military commander of the state of Chihuahua, advised him of the danger and risk that he and his fellow companions were running in traveling through a dangerous region. Watson did not want to wait until an escort could be furnished for their train, and as he was a man very impulsive and always desiring to impose his authority and possessing a very bad temper, his own temper carried him to his doom, together with the rest of his companions.

"These facts are well known in El Paso and in all that region it is a fact that the American military authorities and the same American government could not deny that General Gavira from the 6th day of March notified them that he had been advised that Villa, leading a band of marauders, was on his way to the frontier going through Palomas.

"This notice, given in ample time, should have prepared the American authorities for the incoming danger on account of the presence of Villa at Palomas and Columbus.

"The American authorities also know what were the hostile intentions of Villa against the United States. The Constitutional government from the moment it heard of the Villa movement and right after the attack of these bandits on Columbus, ordered that 1,500 men under the command of General Luis Gutierrez, should march at full speed to the northern region of the state of Chihuahua to pursue the bandits who, after committing out-law acts in a foreign territory were returning to their own country.

"It is of public domain that persecution of Villa was immediately started and the marauder bands were soon scattered.

"It is a gratuitous imputation of the American government that the Constitutional government was not anxious to end these incursions or to punish the guilty for the crimes committed. "It is an established fact that the incident at Parral was precipitated by the imprudent act of the American commander who entered the town when he was well aware that the Constitutional government never gave him permission to enter for the presence of the American troops in our territory and much less take possession of towns. It is also true that the troops of the Constitutional government protected the American troops against the very just indignation of the people of Parral for their presence in said town.

"It is inexact, in every manner or form, the imputation of lack of loyalty on the part of the Constitutional troops which is referred to in the note.

"The Constitutional government could not help but consider unlawful the presence of the American troops in Mexican territory because the orders which this army had from its own government and which were published by the American government were to commence the persecution of Villa and his bandits, returning to their own territory once these bands were dispersed or that the Constitutional troops should take up the pursuit, as they have done.

"The note calls attention to what really was no more than a simple proposition that the Mexican government make conditionally to the government of the United States in a note dated the tenth of March for the reciprocity for the passage of troops in pursuit of the bandits in case that in any other region of the frontier the Columbus incident should be repeated in the future.

"This provisional proposition could never be called an agreement and therefore it is not true that the Constitutional government has repudiated any agreement.

"It is absolutely true that the Constitutional government should have considered the form and nature of an agreement for the mutual respect of troops for the prosecution of bandits. What really the Constitutionalists wanted was to fix the terms and conditions for future difficulties that might arise between one and the other country, and to satisfy the Mexican people as to the reason of the presence of American soldiers in our own territory.

"The United States really have tried to abuse and not to use a fundamental and defined agreement because in all its acts it could be easily seen that they have not wanted to limit themselves to the prosecution of bandits but to enlarge their radius of action.

"It is true that the constitutional government suspended the declaration of the agreement on the reciprocity of the trespassing of troops, but it had very serious reasons for this, because the government of the United States did not want to include the Columbus expedition in this agreement, and this naturally could not be accepted by the constitutional government, inasmuch as it would have been equal to consent to the invasion of Mexican territory. "It is not true that the government of the United States did not answer in due terms the note of the 12th of April of the constitutional government, because on diplomatic grounds it cannot be considered as a legal answer but a mere verbal exposition, without form or signature as was done by Representative Rodgers.

"In the name of the department of state General Obregon signed a memorandum which was subjected to the approval of the first chief. He had full authority to accept or reject it and if it was not accepted it was because it contained a condition impossible to be admitted, such as that the United States should be the one to decide as to the withdrawal.

"Against what is imputed in the note, it is a fact that the constitutional government has instituted a vigorous prosecution of the outlaw bands remaining in the Chihuahua territory and has made a distribution of its forces to put a stop to further invasions of American territory.

"It is not that the constitutional government wishes to leave unpunished the crimes committed by the bands of outlaws, nor that it refuses to capture and destroy or disperse them, but at the same time this government cannot tolerate as it has repeatedly stated to the department of state continuous presence of American expeditions of troops in Mexican territory, who have no right to be there.

"The incursion of bandits to Glenn Springs, or the bandit raids in the territory of the state of Texas, could not be imputed or responsibility placed on the Mexican government, but if it is negligence of the American government in not directing its frontiers in that region. Besides it is very doubtful that this band could have been organized in Mexican territory, as stated, and have very strong reasons and motives to believe that the organization of the band of outlaws took place in the United States.

"It is true that General Obregon notified Generals Scott and Funston that the Mexican government would not consent to the trespassing of new American troops into Mexico and that the American government given to all military commanders of the frontier not to consent to the same.

"When General Obregon showed Generals Scott and Funston a copy of a newspaper published in El Paso, Tex., asked if it was true, as that paper stated, that new American troops had crossed into Mexico due to the incidents at Boquillas or Glenn Springs, General Funston personally answered as follows:

"I have never given such orders and have no knowledge of such movement of troops. "Between men of loyalty and honor, the answer of Funston could not be construed in any other manner but as a negative that the troops had crossed the border but nevertheless the note now states that the declaration made by Funston was made before such orders were given and not after.

"It now seems that General Funston made this declaration to hide a movement which he had already in view and that he based his affirmation on the fact that although contemplating same, he not yet made it at the time of his declaration.

"It does not appear that the department of state is assuming a dignified position in availing itself of this weak argument to favor its cause. It is not true that General Scott and General Funston during the conference with General Obregon mentioned the possibility of a new punitive expedition in the direction of Tamaulipas on account of the activities attributed to De La Rosa and Pedro Vela.

"It results in an indefensible contradiction when in the note it is stated that the crossing of troops which took place on the 10th of May was done only after properly advising the local military authorities and to assure in the following paragraph that in a distance of 168 miles within Mexican territory the American expedition did not find a solitary Mexican detachment nor even a single soldier.

"General Scott did not want to take part in the plan suggested to protect the frontier by means of a reciprocal distribution of troops on the whole length of the dividing line, and always continued to insist on the signing of the memorandum that as already stated contained a condition impossible to be accepted by the Mexican government, and which General Obregon, obeying orders from the first chief, refused to ratify.

"All the charges made against the government of the United States and the many obstacles it has always placed in the way to make impossible the pacification of Mexico are true and we still affirm them inasmuch as the note does not refute them but on the contrary, confesses to the truth of them.

"In regard to the stoppage of embargo on the importation of arms and ammunition into Mexican territory, it is a simple excuse to claim that it was done with the only object of making it impossible for said arms and ammunition to fall into the hands of Villa, as it is a well established fact that the Constitutional government took possession of the frontier in the Juarez district since January of the current year.

"It is true that the Mexican press

Won't Make any Money Off Us, We'll Go to Jail, Said Three Men Arrested for Being Disorderly—Were Fined $5 or 5 Days in Jail.

Thursday night three men stood out on Broadway near the city hall using such profane language that the attention of the police at the city hall was attracted and Policeman O'Neil placed all three men under arrest. They gave their names as Edwin Strang, Peter Lang and Francis Krank. This morning they were arraigned before Recorder Lang and in reply to questions said that they had been drunk and had been making a disturbance when arrested. "I five you $5 or five days in jail," said the court, after receiving their plea of guilty to the charge preferred against them. "We'll go to jail," announced the three. As they were escorted from the court room by Sergeant Hanley, one of them said, "They won't make any money off of us, we'll go to jail first." They went later in the hurly-burly wagon.

PEEKSKILL PLAYS HERE SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon the fast Peekskill baseball team will cross bats with the Kingstons at McVey's field. Peekskill was slated to play here a short time ago, but owing to inclement weather the game was called off. Peekskill will have "Packey" Holden on the firing line for them. Kingston will line up its strongest aggregation against the visitors and a fast game may be looked forward to by the fans. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

Left His Horse Untied.
Isadore Werhowsky of No. 58 Meadow street, left his horse untied on Broadway near Franklin street on Thursday afternoon, and the horse wandered away and was caught in front of Van's garage by Policeman Van Buren. This morning Werhowsky was arraigned before Recorder Lang on a charge of violation of the traffic ordinance and was fined $3 which he paid. This was the first time he had ever been arrested.

New Motion Picture Serial.
A famous motion picture serial which will run for twenty weeks, will open at the Kingston Opera House next Wednesday night, when George Kleine will present Miss Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance," from the motion picture novel by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes. Charles Chaplin appears in the opening picture and is also seen in other subsequent chapters. One chapter will be shown each week.

No Palen Sale on Tuesday.
Elmer Palen is in the west purchasing a carload of horses. The regular Tuesday sale at his stables on Broadway will be postponed next week until the following week on account of the day being a holiday.

His Bicycle Was Stolen.
Lucius Maxon has reported to the police that his bicycle was stolen from in front of the bakery at Broadway and St. James street. The theft occurred several days ago.

At the Hospital.
Miss Mary Johnston of No. 20 West Union street was taken to the Kingston City Hospital on Wednesday in the ambulance.

WATCHFUL WAITING ALONG THE BORDER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., June 30.—Border citizens and the American army on the border today settled down to await as patiently as they might for the next Mexican outbreak.

Carranza's return of the troops taken at Carrizal is looked upon merely as a temporary sop to the demands of the administration. In only one incidental detail did this action comply with the latest note of President Wilson. The big broad issues to be answered have received no formal consideration from Carranza and his advisors. But the crisis in the present situation is believed to be passed.

It would be difficult to determine which was the most disappointed—the border citizenry or the army.

The army was known to be in readiness for the bombardment of Juarez and the subsequent movement of American troops due south of here. Only some drastic concession by the Carranza government could check action within seven days.

The surrender of the prisoners seemed to have done that. There is no relaxation of vigilance on the part of the army. So far as could be learned the officers still were under orders to remain at all hours with their commands. The big "four point seven" were still in position on Cotton Hill. But there was a sure feeling that the long expected order would be delayed—until the next outbreak.

The one consolation the citizenry and the army found was in the conviction that another outbreak was certain. Even Professor David Starr Jordan, peace disciple, prophesied that, so long as two armies were in one country there would be repetitions of the Carrizal incident.

For all the ostentatious return of the American prisoners it was marked that Carranza had still to answer President Wilson's demand in order to know the de facto government's future attitude toward the troops of the American expedition in Chihuahua state.

The latest statements of Minister of War Obregon, General Jacinto B. Trevino and other officials of the de facto government indicated that the attitude had not changed since Trevino issued his remarkable order that for Pershing to move his forces in any direction but north would be the signal for hostilities.

The report that Carranza was sending two generals with the negro prisoners and that they had orders to handle a crowd that was doing its best to register some sympathy for striking street car employees by hurling bricks through the windows of a street car and threatening to apply the lynch law to the non-union laborers. The soldiers dispersed the mob after the mayor of El Paso had made an address from the war platform. With riots threatening at all times between the Mexican and American population the strike riots were looked upon as an added menace. The mayor has ordered saloons closed at sunset as a precautionary measure.

Officials are investigating two big fires that attacked the James H. Dick Company and the Lone Star Garage yesterday. More than $250,000 damage was done by the incendiaries who are believed to have started the flames. The Dick Company does a wholesale grocery business and has contracts with the automobile firm. From the automobile firm, motor cars have been sent to General Pershing's expedition.

From various points along the border come reports of new activities on the part of small bandit bands. The band that raided William Parker's ranch near Hachita and murdered Parker and his wife, is being sought by a civilian posse as well as soldiers.

From Presidio comes word that Carranzistas at Ojinaga fired upon the town and it is possible that Major Butler, in command there, might go across the border to punish the offenders.

Nogales was the scene of a strange conference when Col. Sage, U. S. A., and General Norzagaray of the Carranzista forces, met in the Mexican consulate and agreed that their troops would not clash unless there was an open break between the two countries.

"It is now definitely understood," said Col. Sage today, "that in this district there will be no battle until word has been received from Washington and Mexico City respectively."

Levy on Hudson Navigation Co.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, June 30.—The property rights of the Hudson Navigation Company in Albany are the subject of a levy by Sheriff James D. Patten on a warrant issued by State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis for a corporation tax of $22,445.38 alleged to be due the state. The property now under seizure comprises the office and freight buildings and pier privileges leased from the city at Albany.

Will Play at West Park.
B. J. Murray's orchestra of this city has been engaged to furnish music for a reception at West Park on July 4. Dancing will be held in the village school.

CAMP WHITMAN NOW HAS WATER

Until This Morning The Tenth Regiment Had to Carry its Water a Mile and a Half.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Camp Whitman, Beckman, June 30.—Camp Whitman has its water supply. At 8:45 this morning Col. Lucas of the 22nd Engineers, accompanied by his staff, rode over to the pump a quarter of a mile from his headquarters and five minutes later gave the signal for starting the pump which set the water flowing through the pipes into the 50,000 gallon tank located a mile away, at the rate of 250 gallons a minute.

The ceremony attending the completion of the work of supplying the camp with water, which has taxed the ingenuity of the most prominent engineers in the state, was of the simplest character. Col. Lucas simply raised his campaign hat aloft as a signal to the engineer to start the pump. It was the most welcome signal that has been given since the camp started. The men of the 22nd gave three rousing cheers as the water was turned on and the good news quickly spread through the entire camp of upwards of 11,000 men.

"No more water details" was the happy news passed from camp to camp. The water detail is one of the most detested details in the camp; some of the men having to wait for hours before they could get water for their regiment and the news that it had been abolished was welcome indeed. The regiment that was most pleased at the news was the Tenth Regiment of Albany, which arrived yesterday. The men have had to go one and a half miles for their water supply.

After giving the signal to start the pump Col. Lucas rode over to tank into which the water was flowing in a steady stream through the 6-inch pipe. He then rode back to headquarters and called up Governor Whitman on the telephone and informed him that the camp had its water supply at last. The governor expressed his pleasure at the news and warmly congratulated the colonel on the successful ending of his efforts to furnish the camp with an adequate water supply.

A fountain has been built in front of Col. Lucas's tent and began playing at 9 o'clock. The colonel said he wanted the fountain as visible evidence that the camp had its water supply.

A Trip to Camp.

Chauncey Snyder of St. James street took a party of seven Kingstons to Camp Niantic, near New London, Conn., in his seven-passenger car on Thursday. The party was composed of Valentine Schirick, Harry Schirick, Lizzie Schirick, Katherine Schirick, Mary Gillen, Ella Murray and Peter Crough, and they went to visit George F. Schirick, of Stamford, Conn., formerly of this city, who is a member of Company A of Waterbury, which is encamped with other Connecticut National Guard Companies at Camp Niantic. The party left Kingston at six o'clock in the morning and spent most of the time at Camp Niantic, returning by way of Camp Whitman at Beckman, Dutchess county, and Newburgh, and reaching Kingston at one o'clock this morning. The entire trip covered 375 miles.

Walden Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Basing their work on the success of last year the Walden Independence Day Committee are planning a big celebration to be known as Walden's Gala Day to be held July 4th on the Bradley field. In the morning there will be a big street parade and a game of baseball will be staged between the Keen Cutters of Walden and the Manhattan Red Sox of New York city. There will be refreshment and souvenir stands erected on the field. In the afternoon an athletic meet will be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and at 3 o'clock Colonel G. A. Cantine of Newburgh will deliver an address. Another baseball game will follow the address and at night fireworks will be set off.

Senseless Blockade of Ferry.

The need of a bridge across the Rondout creek was fully demonstrated this morning when the steamer William F. Romer of the Central-Hudson line came in the creek and tied up at her dock with her stern extending across the slip of the Sleighsborough ferry, entirely tying up traffic for three-quarters of an hour, making a large number of Port Even residents late to their work. A repetition of such an occurrence should not be tolerated.

Murray Will be Busy.

B. J. Murray has been awarded the contract to paint the new building for Harrison & Company on Field Court. The office is a mahogany trim, with metal ceiling of ivory color and the side walls a light tan. The shipping room on the first floor also has a metal ceiling and painted side walls, while the window trim is a light color. The building when completed will be a distinct addition to the central part of the city.

New Lunch Room on Railroad Ave.

A new lunch room is being built on Railroad avenue. The interior will be of white marble block and a white enamel trim. B. J. Murray has been awarded the contract to do the decorating and painting.

Besides it is very doubtful that this band could have been organized in Mexican territory, as stated, and we have very strong reasons and motives to believe that the organization of that band of outlaws took place in the United States.

"It is true that General Obregon notified Generals Scott and Funston that the Mexican government would not consent to the trespassing of new American troops into Mexico, and that due officers were already given to all military commanders of the frontier not to consent to the same.

"When General Obregon showed Generals Scott and Funston a copy of a newspaper published in El Paso, Tex., asked if it was true, as that paper stated, that new American troops had crossed into Mexico due to the incidents at Boquillas or Glenn Springs, General Funston personally answered as follows:

"I have never given such orders and have no knowledge of such movement of troops.

"Between men of loyalty and honor, the answer of Funston could not be construed in any other manner but as a negative that the troops had crossed the border but nevertheless the note now states that the declaration made by Funston was made before such orders were given and not after.

"It now seems that General Funston made this declaration to hide a movement which he had already in view and that he had already affirmed on the fact that he was contemplating same, he not yet made it at the time of such declaration.

"It does not appear that the department of state is assuming a dignified position in availing itself of this weak argument to favor its cause. It is not true that General Scott and General Funston during the conference with General Obregon mentioned the possibility of a new punitive expedition in the direction of Tamalipas on account of the activities attributed to De La Rosa and Pedro Vina.

"It results in an indefensible contradiction when in the note it is stated that the crossing of troops which took place on the 10th of May was done only after properly advising the local military authorities and to assure in the following paragraph that in a distance of 168 miles without Mexican territory the American expedition did not find a solitary Mexican detachment nor even a single soldier.

"General Scott did not want to take part in the plan suggested to protect the frontier by means of a reciprocal distribution of troops on the whole length of the dividing line, and always continued to insist on the signing of the memorandum that as already stated contained a condition impossible to be accepted by the Mexican government, and which General Obregon, obeying orders from the first chief, refused to ratify.

"All the charges made against the government of the United States and the many obstacles it has always placed in the way to make impossible the pacification of Mexico are true and we still affirm them inasmuch as the note does not refute them but on the contrary, confesses to the truth of them.

"In regard to the stoppage of embargo on the importation of arms and ammunition into Mexican territory, it is a simple excuse to claim that it was done with the only object of making it impossible for said arms and ammunition to fall into the hands of Villa, as it is a well established fact that the Constitutional government took possession of the frontier in the Juarez district since January of the current year.

"It is true that the Mexican press

WATCHFUL WAITING ALONG THE BORDER CAMP WHITMAN NOW HAS WATER

By Telegraph to The Freeman. El Paso, Tex., June 30.—Border officials and the American army on the border today settled down to await as patiently as they might for the next Mexican outbreak.

Carranza's return of the troopers taken at Carrizal is looked upon merely as a temporary sop to the demands of the administration. In only one incidental detail did this action comply with the latest note of President Wilson. The big broad pump which set the water flowing through the pipes into the 50,000 gallon tank located a mile away, at the rate of 250 gallons a minute.

The ceremony attending the completion of the work of supplying the camp with water, which has taxed the ingenuity of the most prominent engineers in the state, was of the simplest character. Col. Lucas simply raised his campaign hat aloft as a signal to the engineer to start the pump. It was the most welcome signal that has been given since the camp started. The men of the 22nd gave three rousing cheers as the water was turned on and the good news quickly spread through the entire camp of upwards of 11,000 men.

"No more water details" was the happy news passed from camp to camp. The water detail is one of the most detested details in the camp; some of the men having to wait for hours before they could get water for their regiment and the news that it had been abolished was welcome indeed. The regiment that was most pleased at the news was the Tenth Regiment of Albany, which arrived yesterday. The men have had to go one and a half miles for their water supply.

After giving the signal to start the pump Col. Lucas rode over to tank into which the water was flowing in a steady stream through the 6-inch pipe. He then rode back to headquarters and called up Governor Whitman on the telephone and informed him that the camp had its water supply at last. The governor expressed his pleasure at the news and warmly congratulated the colonel on the successful ending of his efforts to furnish the camp with an adequate water supply.

A fountain has been built in front of Col. Lucas's tent and began playing at 8 o'clock. The colonel said he wanted the fountain as visible evidence that the camp had its water supply.

A Trip to Camp.

Chauncey Snyder of St. James street took a party of seven Kingstonians to Camp Natick, near New London, Conn., in his seven-passenger car on Thursday. The party was composed of Valentine Schrick, Harry Schrick, Lizzie Schrick, Katharine Schrick, Mary Gillen, Ella Murray and Peter Crough, and they went to visit George F. Schrick, of Stamford, Conn., formerly of this city, who is a member of Company A of Waterbury, which is encamped with other Connecticut National Guard Companies at Camp Natick. The party left Kingston at six o'clock in the morning and spent most of the time at Camp Natick, returning by way of Camp Whitman at Beekman, Dutchess county, and Newburgh, reaching Kingston at one o'clock this morning. The entire trip covered 375 miles.

Walden Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Basing their work on the success of last year the Walden Independence Day Committee are planning a big celebration to be known as Walden's Gala Day to be held July 4th on the Bradley Field. In the morning there will be a big street parade and a game of baseball will be staged between the Keen Cutters of Walden and the Manhattan Red Sox of New York city. There will be refreshment and souvenir stands erected on the field. In the afternoon an athletic meet will be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and at 3 o'clock Colonel G. A. Cantine of Newburgh will deliver an address. Another baseball game will follow the address and at night fireworks will be set off.

Senseless Blockade of Ferry.

The need of a bridge across the Rondout creek was fully demonstrated this morning when the steamer William F. Romer of the Central Hudson line came in the creek and tied up at her dock with her stern extending across the slip of the Sleighsborough ferry, entirely tying up traffic for three-quarters of an hour, making a large number of Port Ewen residents late to their work. A repetition of such an occurrence should not be tolerated.

Murray Will Be Busy.

B. J. Murray has been awarded the contract to paint the new building for Harrison & Company on Field Court. The office is a mahogany trim, with metal ceiling of ivory color and the side walls a light tan. The shipping room on the first floor also has a metal ceiling and painted side walls, while the window trim is a light color. The building when completed will be a distinct addition to the central part of the city.

New Lunch Room on Railroad Ave.

A new lunch room is being built on Railroad avenue. The interior will be of white marble block and a white enamel trim. B. J. Murray has been awarded the contract to do the decorating and painting.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, June 30.—The property rights of the Hudson Navigation Company in Albany are the subject of a writ issued by State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis for a corporation tax of $22,445.38 alleged to be due the state. The property now under seizure comprises the office and freight buildings and pier privileges leased from the city at Albany.

Will Play at West Park.

B. J. Murray's orchestra of this city has been engaged to furnish music for a reception at West Park on July 4. Dancing will be held in the village school.

At the Hospital.

Miss May Johnston of No. 20 West Union street was taken to the Kingston City Hospital on Wednesday in the ambulance.

His Bicycle Was Stolen.

Lucius Maxon has reported to the police that his bicycle was stolen from in front of the bakery at Broadway and St. James street. The theft occurred several days ago.

No Faten Sale on Tuesday.

Elmer Faten is in the west purchasing a carload of horses. The regular Tuesday sale at his stables on Broadway will be postponed next week until the following week on account of the day being a holiday.

New Motion Picture Serial.

A famous motion picture serial which will run for twenty weeks, will open at the Kingston Opera House next Wednesday night, when George Kleine will present Miss Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance," from the motion picture novel by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes. Charley Chaplin appears in the opening picture and is also seen in other subsequent chapters. One chapter will be shown each week.

Iseadore Werbalowsky of No. 58 Meadow street, left his horse untied on Broadway near Franklin street on Thursday afternoon, and the horse wandered away and was caught in front of Van's garage by Policeman Van Buren. This morning Werbalowsky was arraigned before Recorder Lanz on a charge of violation of the traffic ordinance and was fined $2 which he paid. This was the first time he had ever been arrested.

Peekskill Plays Here Sunday

Sunday afternoon the fast Peekskill baseball team will cross bats with the Kingstons at McVey's field. Peekskill was slated to play here a short time ago, but owing to inclement weather the game was called off. Peekskill will have "Packey" Holden on the firing line for them. Kingston will line up its strongest aggregation against the visitors and a fast game may be looked forward to by the "fans". The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1426.—A Simple and Attractive Tub Dress—Ladies' House or Home Dress, With Chemisette, And With Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths. (In Raised or Normal Waistline.)

Dotted percale was used for this style, with white linen for collar and cuffs. The model would be nice for striped seersucker, for chambray and percale, and also good for serge, voile or poplin. It will make a nice neat business suit. The right waist front is shaped over the left, and the low comfortable neck is finished with a deep collar. The sleeve may be long or short as preferred, with a neat cuff finish. The skirt is a four gored model, cut on new lines and with ample fullness. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 6 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures about 2 1/2 yards at its lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

DIFFERENT SAUCES.

The art of making and serving an appropriate sauce is one which should be cultivated as many plain dishes may be made most appetizing by a fitting sauce.

Drawn Butter Sauce.—Cook together a tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of four until brown and dry. Add a cupful of boiling water, cook two minutes, stirring well; add salt and pepper to taste. Using milk and adding it before the flour is brown makes a white sauce. With half cream and half white stock flavored with mushrooms and a dash of lemon juice it becomes Bechamel; cut out half the flour and add the yolks of three eggs, lemon juice, onion and another tablespoonful of butter for a Hollandaise; double the proportion of flour and it furnishes a thick sauce for delicate croquettes.

Brown Sauce.—Cook a half a tablespoonful of flour in a tablespoonful of butter until well browned; add a tablespoonful of chopped onion with other vegetables if liked; cover and simmer until soft. Add one cupful of water or stock, a half teaspoonful of salt, six peppercorns, a half a bay leaf and simmer gently ten minutes. Strain and serve.

Curry Sauce.—Cook two tablespoonfuls of chopped onions in a little butter, then make either a drawn butter sauce or white sauce, adding a tablespoonful of curry to the seasoning. Strain and add lemon or lime juice before sending to the table.

Oyster Sauce.—Parboil and drain a half pint of oysters. Add cream to the liquor to make one cupful, prepare as white sauce adding the oysters at the last.

Lobster sauce is prepared the same way, using stock instead of cream and mashing the lobster before adding it to the sauce.

Bread Sauce.—Crumble fine stale bread crumbs in a saucepan with a half cupful of cold milk and six cracked peppercorns. Let simmer five minutes, then add a half cupful of cream, a teaspoonful of salt, but do not stir; simmer until all is absorbed. This is excellent to serve with roast birds.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 30, 1916.

For the honor of the United States and the safety of American citizens, the return of the twenty-three American prisoners captured by the soldiers of the de facto government of Mexico at Carrizal should not be allowed to close the Mexican situation. Their return to American soil relieves the tension, but only as to their fate. They were made captives after many of their companions had been treacherously killed, following an attack by one army on another. The army that was attacked, as represented by the Tenth United States Cavalry, is one of the visible arms of the United States government itself, so that the President as Commander-in-Chief of the Army or as the Chief Executive of the civilian government could not fail to take notice of what had transpired. In his capacity as both military and civilian chief he could not fail to take notice of the Villa raid which brought matters to a crisis, but in his civilian capacity for three years he has overlooked the repeated treacherous murders and frequent open attacks on the American civilian population of Mexico and along the border. In his civilian capacity he has even been lenient to a government which he had helped to establish in power in Mexico and to supply with American munitions under that government's plea that without American aid of that sort it could not preserve order and prevent bandits from carrying on lawless operations against American citizens and property. When this government, finding the de facto Mexican government unable to cope with bandits who had raided American territory and killed American citizens, sent an army in pursuit of such bandits, it not only received no assistance from the de facto government but that government instigated a treacherous attack on American troops resulting in the death of some and the capture of others. Does the return of the captives wipe the slate clean? Diplomats of other governments have urged Mexico to avert war if possible. American diplomacy always works for peace, but can it overlook a long line of deliberate murders without insisting not alone on promises of future safety for Americans, but also upon the establishment of a firm and capable government within Mexican borders which will be the willing and also able to hold banditry in check? We want peace if possible, but not peace at the price of undiminished murder of American citizens by half civilized hordes whose promises in the past have proved worthless.

With the receipt by the Senate naval affairs committee of its subcommittee's report, another shift of the administration compass with respect to naval policy is recorded. The sub-committee, whose deliberations may have been jarred by the naval encounter off Jutland, recommends construction of four battle cruisers and four dreadnoughts, practically a three year navy program calling for an expenditure of $500,000,000. This is the most sensible greater navy program yet advocated by the Democratic congress and is in striking contrast to that party's policy in the House in 1912 when, in taking over the reins of authority, the Democratic caucus bound every member thereof to vote against the construction of a single battleship. Verily, the world moves and the light occasionally breaks in on the mentalities of the majority in Congress. The shifts in naval policy started from the President's original declaration against increases of either the army or navy, then Secretary Daniels's recommendation of two dreadnoughts and as many battle cruisers. The House Naval Committee upset the Secretary's ideas by cutting out the dreadnoughts and limiting the addition to five battle cruisers. With these constant shifts from a little navy to a big navy and back again, Democratic plans resemble nothing so much as a motion picture with endless views and no definite objective. It is a safe prediction too, that almost everybody is getting pretty tired of the show whose sole mission appears to be the catching of votes for Fall enumeration.

In line with proper preparation for eventualities, there should be due agitation within the next few days upon the importance of making our Fourth of July celebration the safe and sane observance that juvenile welfare demands. Military demonstrations along the border together with mobilization excitement are bound to be reflected in widespread desire on the part of Young America, aided and abetted by parents and others old enough to know better, to give noisy expression to patriotism through the use of fire-crackers and other inventions whose employment tends toward anything but a genuine enjoyment of the day and a proper contemplation of all that it means to this nation. In '98 with the Spanish-American war less than three months old, the Fourth was marked by the explosion of more powder than was actually used in rifles by the soldiers in the field and the resultant toll of dead and injured victims gave a great impetus to the movement for safety and sanity in connection with our annual display of patriotism. Just now conditions are about the same with patriotic impulses stirred by the disorders to the South, and minds unsettled by the ceaseless repetition of European war horrors. Americans must use especial restraint next Tuesday in so far as the more dangerous explosives are concerned if the consistent improvement manifested each succeeding Fourth in recent years is to be continued.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Baleful lookout this, isn't it?" "What lookout?" "Cotton."—Baltimore American.

"Jiggs says things look pretty black in his business." "How's that?" "He manufacturers shoe polish."—Buffalo Express.

Gibbs—"Does your wife believe all you tell her?" Dibbs—"Yes; you see, I am mighty careful what I tell her."—Boston Transcript.

"Business is readjusting itself, but along new lines." "How so?" "A foreign noblewoman has just married an American millionaire."—Puck.

Crawford—"Does your wife beg you for Christmas money?" Crabshaw—"I wouldn't put it exactly that way. She issues an ultimatum."—Judge.

"Does autumn make you melancholy?" "A trifle," replied Miss Cayenne. "You miss the songs of birds and the perfume of flowers?" "Not exactly. But I dislike the noise of a steam radiator and the smell of moth balls."—Washington Star.

Eddie's Retort.

Rather late in the season just past, Eddie Murphy was sold to the Chicago White Sox by Connie Mack. For several days Eddie didn't do much hitting in his new surroundings. In fact, it was not until the Boston team came into the White Sox park for a four-game series that he really woke up.

The year of 1915 was a strenuous one for the Tigers and the Red and White Sox. If you remember, the three teams fought all the way for the pennant. Every series was, therefore, charged with animosity.

This day Murphy thumped out two singles and a triple. The last-named hit came late in the game and cleared the bases of three occupants. A moment later Murphy scored and as he was passing the plate, the big catcher of the Red Sox, greeted him with this:

"Yuh big hunk of cheese, yuh've been with Chicago three weeks and yuh made about three hits—all of them against us."

Murphy looked up, grinned and shot back:

"Yeah—an' if it'd been any more yuh couldn't have counted them!"—Literary Magazine.

Thoroughly Proficient.

An American gentleman got acquainted with a Frenchman who was very anxious to acquire the English language.

The American, in order to help him, said that if he would willingly correct them. Nothing was heard from the Frenchman for some time, but finally a letter came couched in the following choice English:

"In small time I can learn so many English from the textbook and dictionary as I think will come at the America and to go on the scaffold to lecture."—Philadelphia Star.

Didn't Tell It All.

A man who had made a huge fortune was speaking a few words to a class at a business college. Of course, the main theme of his address was himself. "All my success in life, all my financial prestige," he said proudly, "I owe to one thing alone—pluck. Just take that for your motto. Pluck, pluck, pluck!"

He made an impressive pause here, but the effect was ruined by a student, who asked impressively: "Yes, sir, but please tell us how and whom to pluck?"—London Answers.

Discovered.

Little Tommy had repeatedly been warned by his nurse as to the awful results of biting his nails, but all to no avail, so, as a last resource, she decided on harsher measures to cure him of the pernicious habit. "If you persist in biting your nails," she remarked, "you will swell out like an air balloon." Little Tommy believed, took heed and didn't bite his nails for two whole days. On the third day Tommy's mother was giving a party, quite a swell affair, and Tommy, on his promise of good behavior was allowed to partake of tea with his mother's guests. As soon as the tea was over Tommy edged close up to a very corpulent lady of the party, gazed at her in silence for a few moments and then exclaimed, in a loud, awestruck voice: "I see you bite your nails."—Rochester Times.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 29.—The numerous hand bills posted throughout the country describe a complete and very attractive program for the Fourth of July celebration in this place. Perhaps the most popular features of the program will prove to be the grand parade at 2 p. m., the patriotic address by Dr. Boyd of Jersey City at 3:30 and the play by the Boy Scouts in the Grange hall at 7:45, followed by a patriotic drill and exercise given by the Priscilla Club. The last mentioned will be a fitting climax to the day's celebration. Come in the morning, and stay to the finish. There will be a beautiful dinner and supper served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, also ice cream, home made candy, and other good things on sale.

On Sunday morning, July 2, Rev. Max Byer, field agent of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak in the Methodist Church on the work of that organization. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Byer will speak in the Reformed Church.

The Epworth League devotional meeting on July 2 will be led by Miss Josephine Hasbrouck. The subject is "Purify the Grog Shop. When? Why? How?"

The Methodist Church is very fortunate in having the services of Rev. Frank W. Wittkamp during the summer months. The people of the community should lose no opportunity to hear his series of sermons on the life of Christ, which will be resumed on July 9th.

The Ladies' Aid Society was entertained on the afternoon of June 28 at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Eckert.

Miss Helen Gilbert of New York city is the guest of Miss Helen Clark.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Afternoon the piano Miss Isabel Baladen will play at the lecture room of I. E. Church at 2 o'clock.

Gulford Hasbrouck, Miss Hasbrouck and Miss Elizabeth Clark will be the hostesses at the allskill Club Saturday afternoon.

Number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Donaldson, 117 Henry street, Thursday evening at which the engagement of marriage of the only son, John B. Donaldson, to Sara Moore of 89 Staples street, was announced. Songs were rendered during a social evening which was enjoyed by all present and which was marked by the opening of a number of handsome gifts by a number of friends.

Present were: Mrs. Henry Van Wageningen, Mrs. James Gillespie, Mrs. High Falls, James Gillespie, Mrs. Thomas Kelley, Mrs. L. Short, Mrs. M. Rockwell, Mrs. L. Quick, Miss Ella Palen, Mrs. Cora Quirk, Miss Cora Corne, Miss Rhinehart, Miss Corne, Miss Eva Woolheater, Mrs. Pink, Miss Eva Woolheater, Mrs. Barnhart, Frank Vanderboorn, Thomas Kane and Arthur J. Kane.

Darling-Comstock. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Comstock of Crane street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Margaret, to Harold Hamilton Darling, on January 2, 1916, at St. John's Episcopal Church by the Rev. W. Whitcomb Crowell of Amityville, L. I.

Rosenthal-Kugel. Edward Rosenthal, a son of Mrs. Rosenthal of No. 120 Hasbrouck avenue, and Miss Selma Kugel of New York city, were united in marriage on Sunday in that city. They will reside in New York city.

Mr. Rosenthal is employed in automobile factory. He is well known in Kingston and he and his wife have the well wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

McCarthy-Hines. At 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Catholic Church, St. John's, was the scene of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy of Marlborough and Miss Hines of Gardiner.

Mr. McCarthy is a member of the Rev. R. Hopkins. Francis McCall of Milton was best man and Mr. Munnally of Port Ewen acted as the bride. After a wedding supper the happy couple left for Philadelphia, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Marlborough.

Bloom-Elmendorf. Miss Elsie Frances Elmendorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Elmendorf of Catskill, and the Rev. W. B. Bloom, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hawthorne, N. Y., were married at the home of the bride's parents on Railroad avenue, Catskill, on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. G. W. Downs, D. D., assisted by the Rev. J. A. Dykstra.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and georgette crepe with pearl trimmings, with court train and long tulle veil caught with a bandeau of pearls. Her bouquet was of bride roses. She was attended by her bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Katherine Elmendorf, who was gowned in Nile green and carried a bouquet of Marjoram.

Wanted C. Bloom, a member of the groom, who is a student at Rutgers College, was best man. Before the ceremony, Mrs. Elsie H. Driscoll rendered several piano selections and Miss Charlotte Heath sang "O Perfect Love."

Reception followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Bloom left on their honeymoon, which will be spent in the north. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bloom of Catskill. The out of town guests included Mrs. Charles Lahl, Mrs. B. McBride, Mrs. Jane Elmendorf and Mrs. Susan Elmendorf, all of this city, and Miss Charlotte Moore of Saugerties.

Recital Shows Progress. The violin recital given by the advanced pupils of Ford Hummel at the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening of this week was not only very enjoyable from the musical viewpoint, but it showed the progress attained by the pupils, particularly the leaps and bounds forward taken by Master Earle Hummel.

The first part of the program was given over to a number of quartets and trios for strings and piano. The quartet in G by Beethoven, for four violins and piano, opened the program, and was followed by an arrangement of Schumann's lovely little "Traumerei," wherein the four violins played with exceptional smoothness and effectiveness. Quite different in character, but charming as the "Gavotte" by Gossack for two violins and piano, the ensemble being particularly good in this number. The players were Ford Hummel, John Schmid, Alphonsus Schmid and Gustav Cook, with Mrs. Hummel at the piano. Next on the program came the two trios: "Romance" by Rubenstein, rich in coloring and well played; and on "Imaginario" by Nolek. The latter was especially beautiful in the modulatory passages and in its general grace of movement, and was evidently a favorite with the performers, Ford Hummel, violinist; Gordon Burhans, cellist; Mrs. Hummel, pianist.

Under all the circumstances it is a disappointment to any of the other performers, all of whom did such excellent work, to say that the keenest interest of the musicians in the audience centered in the next number, the first movement (Allegro ma non troppo) with cadenza by Leonard that master violin Concerto by Beethoven, to be played by Earle Hummel. Since the recital last summer Earle has been adding inches to his height physically, but an infinite path, breadth and height to his musicianship. In beauty of theme, richness of construction and in the attitude of musical thought, this concerto makes tremendous demands on both the mind of the player and his technique. There must be a sense of direction, a sense of color, a sense of tone, and the way in which Earle grasped all this, portraying with finesse and power of coloring and bowing, seemed indeed amazing. Of course, the cadenza, a particularly beautiful and difficult one, shows peculiarly the pureness of tone and finish of technique of the performer, to which the boy measured up remarkably, but after all the lasting impression was made in the dignity and splendor of the close of the Concerto. Earle's future grows brighter and bigger year by year, and spared good health and the opportunity to work and study, he should become a power in the musical world.

The last number on the program was the "Allegro Molto Appassionato" movement from Mendelssohn's always lovely violin Concerto, with cadenza by Mendelssohn, himself, and it was played by Miss Hazel Tuttle of Catskill. Miss Tuttle also showed the effect of a year of faithful and earnest work, for she played with a fine tone, splendid poise, and excellent interpretation, bringing the number to its close with exceptional power and beauty, showing the young lady to have marked talent and careful training.

Saugerties. Saugerties, June 30.—Esopus Tribe, No. 482, Improved Order of Red Men, of Saugerties, at their council meeting Thursday night elected the following officers: Sachem, John Lang, Jr.; senior sagamore, William R. Johnson; junior sagamore, W. J. Knight; prophet, John J. Hayes; representatives to great council, William Kelley and Floyd Van Loan.

Col. S. R. Jones, United States army, retired, and a highly esteemed resident of Saugerties, has been called on by the war department for service in the quartermaster department. Col. Jones will assume his duties at once.

A musical under the direction of Miss Helen Freer will be given in the Baptist Church this evening. Miss Freer will be assisted by Miss Georgiana Chaffin, Enoch Blackwell and Miss Irene Lampan of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Elizabeth street have returned from their wedding trip.

Richard F. Overbargh of Market street was operated on for an attack of appendicitis at the Wauna Sanitarium, Kingston, on Wednesday. The operation was performed by Dr. Mark O'Meara of Kingston, assisted by Dr. B. F. Gifford of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gradwohl of Cedar street are in New York city. Mrs. C. C. Myer of Glasco spent Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Albert Eckert, on Elm street.

Dr. T. F. O'Dea of Partition street visited relatives in Ghent on Thursday.

Mrs. Claude Manning of Freeport, L. I., is a guest at the Maxwell House. Miss Stella Lowther of Barclay Heights has accepted a position in the Martin Canine Company office.

Mrs. Harry Valkenberg and children of Middletown are guests of Mrs. N. R. Valkenberg on Ulster avenue.

Miss Julia Nell of Brooklyn, who has been a guest of her aunt, Mrs. George McNally, on Partition street, has returned home.

Mrs. D. G. Gale of West Bridge street is in New York city.

Red Cross Instructions Ready. The entire community is reminded of the big Red Cross meeting to be held on Monday evening next, July 3rd, at the Y. M. C. A. parlors, and every person interested in the welfare of Company M men and their families will be expected to be present. Final instructions as to the most efficient operating of both the Civilian and Military Relief Sections of the Ulster County Chapter, have been received and will be made public at the meeting. Whether or not our men go to the front, and the prayer is going up from hundreds of homes that they need not, there will be much that can be done for their relative comfort and health while en route to the various camps or in them, and for their families during that period of time that the family finances will be materially lowered through the military service of the men. There is plenty of work to be done right now, so a large attendance of citizens, Red Cross members and, otherwise, is urged for Monday evening.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT. Hemorrhage. In treating hemorrhage the first thing is to find its cause and then try to stop it by local means. What these means are must depend on the state the patient is in and the site of the bleeding. If that is easily reached the hemorrhage can be stopped by packing or by pressure or by binding with ligatures.

Sometimes the state of the patient is such that it is best to stop the flow by the pressure of the hand or fingers while other steps are taken to relieve the constitutional symptoms of shock and collapse.

Sometimes only an operation can reach the point from which the blood comes. In that case it must be performed as rapidly as possible while the patient receives constitutional treatment.

In many cases only a physician can find the source of a hemorrhage, but intelligent bystanders can do much to relieve the symptoms. Hot water bottles are needed to help in maintaining the bodily heat. Stimulants should be in readiness, and the salt box should be at hand, for saline injections are often given by physicians in dangerous cases of hemorrhage.

He Knew. "The man is best governed who is least governed." "That's a man's story," spoke up a henpecked husband. "The women have never subscribed to that as yet."

All Varieties of FRESH FISH for Your Sunday Dinner.

SAMSONVILLE.
Samsonville, June 28.—On July 1st ice cream and other refreshments will be on sale at the hall in the afternoon, and supper will be served. A fine temperance entertainment will be given in the evening at 8 o'clock by our pastor, the Rev. G. W. Thompson. Many beautiful views will be shown by the use of the stereopticon. Admittance free. A silver offering will be taken. Nickels for the children. Come without money if necessary. All are welcome. Following the entertainment there will be supper and fireworks.

F. N. Davis returned from Bridgeport, Conn., last week, where he had been to visit his son, Chester, who is in the hospital, and not gaining as fast as his friends wish to hear.

Mrs. W. G. Moore and son, Lafayette, and Miss Genevieve Moore, visited Kingston last Friday evening.

Harlow McLane of Brodhead called in this place on Sunday.

Edgar Palen has sold his mountain farm and has moved to the village in the red house of Virgil Shurter.

A. Haver is rebuilding and making extensive improvements to his barn.

Mrs. Rachel Bogart and daughter, Mrs. Philander Barton, of Brooklyn, are visiting Mrs. Bogart's daughter, Mrs. Virgil Shurter.

Virgil Shurter and daughters, Ella and Leah, called on his daughter, Mrs. Davis, at Tongore, on Sunday last.

Mrs. R. S. Bardin of Acorn Hill, Mrs. Frank Boesmer and daughter, Winifred, of Rhinebeck, spent a few days last week with Mrs. J. H. Bevier.

Mrs. Abram Markle and daughter, Gladys, have returned home from Yonkers.

Mrs. Ernest Palen of Rhinebeck spent Friday night in this place.

Mrs. Fred Haver and son, Robert, visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Krinkle, on Sunday.

Some of our young folks took an auto ride after church on Sunday. We are glad they think of coming to church.

A number of the friends and relatives from here expected to attend the funeral of W. P. Carson at Tongore Church on Tuesday.

Mrs. Uretta Van Etten, who is employed at Mohonk Lake, had the misfortune to fall from a step ladder, and bruised her right arm, and has been home for about two weeks, but expects to return to her work soon. We miss Mrs. Van Etten very much in our Sunday school and church work.

Church services were very well attended on Sunday. Everyone enjoyed the solo sang by Lafayette Moore. Next Sunday, July 2, there will be a praise service at 3 o'clock, led by a student from Syracuse University. A large attendance is desired.

Oliver Christiana is spending the summer with his uncle, J. H. Bevier, and is having great fun driving a

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

We see that it is now recommended that the county jail be supplied with hot water. We always labored under the impression that it was only those who "get into hot water" ever went to jail.

Our own report of an inspection of the Ulster county jail made after reading in The Freeman how the jail needed shower baths, hot water and other luxuries:

It was exceedingly gratifying to find all parts of the jail satisfactorily clean. In this connection would say, however, that it works an unusual hardship on a prisoner confined in the jail as he is not used to such cleanliness, and it is liable to make him homesick. We would therefore recommend that the jail be kept not quite so clean.

We also noticed that the prisoners were forced to sleep in bunks. This inflicts untold privation on a prisoner, especially when he is confined in the jail for any length of time. We would recommend that brass beds be installed in each cell.

Prisoners are also forced to make up their own beds each morning. This should not be allowed to continue. The county should employ a chambermaid as it is not a man's work to make up his own bed.

Another bad feature of our present system in the handling of prisoners is the question of meals and the prisoner has absolutely no choice in the matter. He must eat whatever the jail authorities provide.

This is not right and the system should be abolished and arrangements made with the leading hotels to supply the meals.

We therefore recommend that each cell be equipped with a telephone so that the prisoner may have the privilege of calling up the hotel chef and ordering and selecting his own meals.

The idea that a man who commits a crime is sent to jail as a punishment is no longer tolerated in the best society of long haired men and short haired women and is old-fashioned. We should remember that a jail is not intended for the punishment, but the uplift of the prisoner. Spell "uplift" in capital letters.

If you don't believe us we simply refer you to any report of an inspection of the jail made in the past few years.

As everyone knows the average jailbird is madly anxious to bathe himself. Usually when out of jail he bathes once each year, and that in July, but as soon as he is confined in jail the unnatural desire assails him to bathe every day.

We recommend therefore that a large swimming pool be constructed on the first floor, and a shower bath be installed in each cell.

After our inspection of the jail we have reached the following conclusions which we group under the head of further recommendations:

The jail cells are altogether too small and each prisoner should be furnished with a room at least 10 by 12 feet with hot and cold water, bath, gas and electricity, telephone, brass bed, and all the most modern improvements. He should also be given an electric fan for warm nights.

Each prisoner should be allowed two boxes of cigars a week, several packages of pipe and chewing tobacco at the expense of the county. He should also be given his favorite beverage in as large quantities as he may desire.

An elevator should be installed in the jail as it is too much to ask a prisoner to walk up to the third tier of cells.

We also recommend that the prisoners be furnished with Ford by the county so that they may enjoy some slight recreation in touring about the city and county when it is fair weather.

Another recommendation is that the rear of the jail yard should be excavated, a large pond built and stocked with fish and several rowboats placed thereon so that prisoners who do not care for automobileing may fish and boat to their heart's content.

In conclusion we rise to say that when our recommendations are carried out as they should be, we expect to hit a policeman over the head with a club so that Recorder Lang will sentence us to at least sixty days in the new county clubhouse.

ARDONIA.
Ardonia, June 29.—The weather man was very kind and sent the Ardonia Mothers' Club a beautiful night for their festival. There was a good attendance. Visitors were there from New York, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Kingston. The entertainment began with a parade heralded by Boy Blue with his horn. Following him was Mother Goose carrying her goose, also the old shoe with the woman and her children overflowing it, and other Mother Goose children. The rest of the entertainment was folk dances, grills and songs by the children, and singing by Frank McGinn of Newburgh, Preston Paltridge of Ardonia and Alec Barclay of New Paltz, with Cecil C. Paltridge as accompanist. Much of the success of the entertainment was due to these musicians, who so kindly gave their time and talent to help the Mothers' Club.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATED

Whether inspired by the beautiful surroundings of the high school auditorium, or stirred by the events of the day, certain it is that the graduating exercises of the Eighth Grade pupils as held in the high school on Thursday afternoon was indeed a memorable affair. The stage full of bright boys and girl faces, with the background and great American flags, offered an inspiring picture as the curtains were pulled aside. After welcoming the guests, Superintendent Michael said that he would explain a little about the arranging of the program. Said Mr. Michael: "It would not be strange if among our eight schools there should be much friendly rivalry. The best place on the program is, for some reason unknown to me, thought to be the middle numbers. To decide the respective places, the name of each school is written on a piece of paper, all are put into a hat, and the first drawn out is number one, the second, number two, etc." Mr. Michael then told of hearing a rehearsal of the program in which he was more than impressed with the desirability of changing School No. 5 and giving it the last place on the program, and after those present had heard it he knew they would agree with him.

Following a pleasing selection by an orchestra composed of four of the Symphony Orchestra musicians, the schools rose and sang very sweetly, "May Pole Dance," by Jakobowski, Miss Paulding, superintendent of singing in the schools of Kingston, conducting.

Carroll F. Kearney, of School No. 7, was the first speaker, giving such a splendid recitation of "Claudius and Cynthia," that thrilling Roman story of the royal archer, that the audience held its breath, and almost forgot that a boy of today was "speaking a piece," in their vision of the tale as graphically, in clear tones, with dramatic yet not "clotted" force, young Kearney without hesitation brought the long but thrilling tale to a close.

Then came Miss Marion J. Leighton, of School No. 6, who in a very charming, natural and realistic manner gave James Whitcomb Riley's quaint but very real child's story, "A Boy's Bear Story."

A second selection played by the orchestra and receiving hearty and deserved applause was followed by a humorous reading, "Johnny's History Lesson," wherein Miss Eva Stone, of School No. 3, told, with a merry twinkle in her eye, and a keen appreciation of his humor, Johnny's one sure date, "1492," upon which he hung all of his historic knowledge.

A forceful, exceedingly pertinent and admirably delivered recitation entitled "War," was given by J. Harold Shoemaker, of School No. 8. One of the most charming songs sung, and splendidly sung by the schools, was "Merry June," by Vincent. The parts were well taken and carried, and the phrasing as well as tone effect was delightful.

Miss Mary C. Healey, of School No. 1, gave as her recitation "White Shall It Be?" that home picture which shows the parental love that can change not one of its children for any amount of ease and comfort, and it was well given.

Then came still another pleasing orchestral number, followed by a recitation given with fine realism and appreciation of the spirit of the poem, "Naughty Brier Rose," given charmingly by Ruth Scott, of School No. 2.

The last recitation for the afternoon was given by Otto H. Lang, of School No. 4, and was entitled "Father's Letter." Here a pleasant home picture was well drawn by the speaker, who also possessed and passed on to his hearers, a fine sense of the humorous turns in the to-be-written letter.

Then came the No. 5 participation in the program and Superintendent Michael prefaced it by telling how long before Captain Meagher had thought of going to war, the preparation of the children's part in the commencement exercises had been under way. Mr. Michael found the audience a thoughtful one beyond his experience with any other such audience, and said he knew all were from time to time thinking of the soldiers who marched away so gallantly in the morning. He felt sure, judging from the excellent care of and progress in School No. 5, that the boys under Captain Meagher would indeed be well looked after. Then he announced the number, which proved to be a sort of human picture of the Star Spangled Banner, which was entitled "Love for our Flag." In graceful and appropriate poses, Geraldine Moss, Mary Raschke and Na Rodie, each wearing draped over their shoulders a handsome large American flag, pictured the various scenes of our national song as it was finely sung by George Allen, whose clear, sweet boy soprano rang out proudly. It was an intensely silent audience that listened

FINE GARMENTS GOING AT 50¢ ON THE DOLLAR JUST IN TIME FOR FOURTH OF JULY

From the full response to this sale it would seem that it is an event looked for by all Ulster county women. Yet so great are the quantities concerned that not even the enthusiastic buying so far could do more than lessen some of the groups. Included for Saturday and Monday are some of the richest Suits, Coats, Skirts, Dresses and Waists shown in Kingston this season. Those who come tomorrow will assuredly find here the most

MEMORABLE VALUES--BEAUTIFUL GARMENTS--RECORD LOW PRICES

It is a sale extraordinary in every respect. Not since our clearance last fall has Kingston seen a sale like this, and many of the values in this event exceed those. Every garment is of the most desirable style, color and weave.

For the convenience of those who cannot come earlier our store will be open Saturday and Monday evenings.

and looked until the last note died away, and then there was a great burst of applause that lasted to some time, and that gave vent to the pent-up feelings of the audience.

Following the singing of "Faith in the Future," by Lord, sung by the schools, Superintendent Michael briefly addressed the graduates, congratulating them upon their having succeeded in their battle with their regents examinations. He warned them that the work ahead of them in the high school, while it might be pleasanter in some ways, would be the hardest work they would ever have to do. However, if they approached those tasks, and later the tasks of life with a cheerful spirit and smiling face, they would surely win out, becoming capable, honest, good American citizens. Mr. Michael then presented the class to President Bernstein, who was to give them their diplomas. Briefly, pointedly and seriously, President Bernstein spoke to the boys and girls, whom he also congratulated as follows:

"Two high school students met shortly after supper and the following conversation ensued: 'Done your Algebra for tomorrow? Nope; done yours?' 'Nope. Then lets go to the movies.' This bon mot gave me an inspiration for the thought I intend to convey to the boys and girls here this afternoon. I feel that the relatives and friends of the graduates came here this afternoon to do them honor, and I know that they have all thoroughly enjoyed, as I have, the excellent program rendered. Far be it from me as an official of the board to spoil the good impression that these students have made by a lengthy and tiresome address, therefore I will be brief in what I have to say to them, and trust that it may prove food for thought."

"I have spoken to you at different times in your class rooms and have tried to impress you with the importance of your grade work and what it would mean to you after you had entered the high school, and it is a source of great gratification to find that so many of you have passed your regents and are ready to begin your studies for the higher education that is to fit you to take up later, the more serious part of your life work. A good education is as essential to a commercial as to a professional career, and will aid materially to your advancement in any position that you may be called upon to occupy. Should you decide upon a course of idleness and pleasure seeking with just enough of study to pull you through, your whole life will be a reflection of your work and without attainment. On the other hand, should you put your whole heart into the work, you will not only derive the full benefit thereof, but have with it the satisfaction that comes through honest effort. In conclusion let me say, should you be tempted to neglect your studies for the reason of this warning of amusement, recall this warning of Moore's, so beautifully expressed: 'The roses of pleasure seldom live long enough to adorn the brow of him who plucks them; they are the only roses which do not retain their sweetness after they have lost their beauty.'"

Diplomas were then presented to the pupils, whose names were printed in The Freeman several days ago. The name of Hervey Keator of School No. 7, does not appear on the list, although he would have graduated had it not been for his leaving as a member of Company M, with that company for Camp Whitman.

MOBACCUSS HEIGHTS.

Mombaccus Heights, June 29.—Owing to the threatening weather Sunday evening, there were not many at the evening service in the M. E. Church. Those who were fortunate enough to be there, however, were treated to an excellent sermon or Bible story by the Rev. A. Quick. Everyone is cordially invited to these inspiring Sunday evening meetings.

The Lavine and Ulfratt boarding houses have a number of boarders from the city.

Miss Olive Smith returned home Monday after spending some time with relatives in Ellenville. While there she successfully passed the regents' examinations and is now qualified for high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandyke Churchhill and son, Mrs. Mary Churchhill and Mrs. Sam Osterhoudt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William DePuy on Sunday and attended service in the M. E. Chapel.

The mountain laurel is a thing of beauty now, though it may not be a joy forever.

F. P. Smith and son were in Palentown Tuesday sawing wood for parties there, with their gasoline outfit.

By the addition of a dining room, the Rev. A. Quick has added to the convenience of his cosy home. William DePuy did the carpenter work.

John Bell of Palentown, who has been assisting Thomas Morehouse for a few days, has returned home.

Patriotic and Musical Service.

Next Sunday, the last for the season of the special services in St. James's Methodist Episcopal Church, which have been so popular, will be held. This will be a patriotic and musical service. The church will be handsomely decorated with American flags. The large choir will be assisted by a fine orchestra which will render several numbers appropriate to the occasion. The pastor will make a brief address on "Our Country And Our Flag." There will be some reference to our relation to Mexico. An invitation is extended to all non-church goers to attend this uplifting service on Sunday night and to prepare for a proper observance of the glorious Fourth.

Bond Issues and Advertising.

In securing subscriptions for its proposed $200,000 six per cent bond issue the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company advertised in the newspapers. To date application has been made for $500,000 of the bonds, two and one-half times the amount of the issue.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 30, 1916

For the honor of the United States and the safety of American citizens, the return of the twenty-three American prisoners captured by the soldiers of the de facto government of Mexico at Carrizal should not be allowed to close the Mexican situation. Their return to American soil relieves the tension, but only as to their fate. They were made captives after many of their companions had been treacherously killed, following an attack by one army on another. The army that was attacked, as represented by the Tenth United States Cavalry, is one of the visible arms of the United States government itself, so that the President as Commander-in-Chief of the Army or as the Chief Executive of the civilian government could not fail to take notice of what had transpired. In his capacity as both military and civilian chief he could not fail to take notice of the Villa raid which brought matters to a crisis, but in his civilian capacity for three years he has overlooked the repeated treacherous murders and frequent open attacks on the American civilian population of Mexico and along the border. In his civilian capacity he has even been lenient to a government which he had helped to establish in power in Mexico and to supply with American munitions under that government's plea that without American aid of that sort it could not preserve order and prevent bandits from carrying on lawless operations against American citizens and property. When this government, finding the de facto Mexican government unable to cope with bandits who had raided American territory and killed American citizens, sent an army in pursuit of such bandits, it not only received no assistance from the de facto government but that government instigated a treacherous attack on American troops resulting in the death of some and the capture of others. Does the return of the captives wipe the slate clean? Diplomats of other governments have urged Mexico to avert war if possible. American diplomacy always works for peace, but can it overlook a long line of deliberate murders without insisting not alone on promises of future safety for Americans, but also upon the establishment of a firm and capable government within Mexican borders which will be willing and also able to hold bandits in check? We want peace if possible, but not peace at the price of undiminished murder of American citizens by half civilized hordes whose promises in the past have proved worthless.

With the receipt by the Senate naval affairs committee of its subcommittee's report, another shift of the administration compass with respect to naval policy is recorded. The subcommittee, whose deliberations may have been jarred by the naval encounter off Jutland, recommends construction of four battle cruisers and four dreadnoughts, practically a three year navy program calling for an expenditure of $500,000,000. This is the most sensible greater navy program yet advocated by the Democratic congress and is in striking contrast to that party's policy in the House in 1912 when, in taking over the reins of authority, the Democratic caucus bound every member thereof to vote against the construction of a single battleship. Verily the world moves and the light occasionally breaks in on the mentalities of the majority in Congress. The shifts in naval policy started from the President's original declaration against increases of either the army or navy, then Secretary Daniels's recommendation of two dreadnoughts and as many battle cruisers. The House Naval Committee upset the Secretary's ideas by cutting out the dreadnoughts and limiting the addition to five battle cruisers. With these constant shifts from a little navy to a big navy and back again, Democratic plans resemble nothing so much as a motion picture with endless views and no definite objective. It is a safe prediction too, that almost everybody is getting pretty tired of the show whose sole mission appears to be the catching of votes for Fall enumeration.

In line with proper preparation for eventualities, there should be due agitation within the next few days upon the importance of making our Fourth of July celebration the safe and sane observance that juvenile welfare demands. Military demonstrations along the border together with mobilization excitement are bound to be reflected in widespread desire on the part of Young America, aided and abetted by parents and others old enough to know better, to give noisy expression to patriotism through the use of firecrackers and other inventions whose employment tends toward anything but a genuine enjoyment of the day and a proper contemplation of all that it means to this nation. In '98 with the Spanish-American war less than three months old, the Fourth was marked by the explosion of more powder than was actually used in rifles by the soldiers in the field and the resultant toll of dead and injured victims gave a great impetus to the movement for safety and sanity in connection with our annual display of patriotism. Just now conditions are about the same with patriotic impulses stirred by the disorders to the South, and minds unsettled by the ceaseless repetition of European war horrors. Americans must use especial restraint next Tuesday in so far as the more dangerous explosives are concerned if the consistent improvement manifested each succeeding Fourth in recent years is to be continued.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Baleful lookout this, isn't it?" "What lookout?" "Cotton."—Baltimore American.

"Jiggs says things look pretty black in his business." "How's that?" "He manufacturers shoe polish."—Buffalo Express.

Gibbs—"Does your wife believe all you tell her?" Dibbs—"Yes; you see, I am mighty careful what I tell her."—Boston Transcript.

"Business is readjusting itself, but along new lines." "How so?" "A foreign noblewoman has just married an American millionaire."—Puck.

Crawford—"Does your wife beg you for Christmas money?" Crabshaw—"I wouldn't put it exactly that way. She issues an ultimatum."—Judge.

"Does autumn make you melancholy?" "A trifle," replied Miss Catwrenne. "You miss the songs of birds and the perfume of flowers?" "Not exactly. But I dislike the noise of a steam radiator and the smell of moth balls."—Washington Star.

Eddie's Rector.

Rather late in the season just past, Eddie Murphy was sold to the Chicago White Sox by Connie Mack. For several days Eddie didn't do much hitting in his new surroundings. In fact, it was not until the Boston team came into the White Sox park for a four-game series that he really woke up.

The year of 1915 was a strenuous one for the Tigers and the Red and White Sox. If you remember, the three teams fought all the way for the pennant. Murphy was a factor in the fight, charged with animosity.

This day Murphy thumped out two singles and a triple. The last named hit came late in the game and cleared the bases of three occupants. A moment later Murphy scored and as he was passing the plate Cady, the big catcher of the Red Sox, greeted him with this:

"Yuh big hunk of cheese, yuh've been with Chicago three weeks and yuh made about three hits—all of them against us."

Murphy looked up, grinned and shot back:

"Yeah—an' if it'd been any more yuh couldn't have counted them!"—Literary Magazine.

Thoroughly Proficient.

An American gentleman got acquainted with a Frenchman who was very anxious to acquire the English language. The American, in order to help him said that if he would read his exercises to him he would willingly correct them. Nothing was heard from the Frenchman for some time, but finally a letter came couched in the following choice English: "In small time I can learn so many English from the textbook and my dictionary as I think will come at the America and to go on the scaffold to lecture."—Philadelphia Star.

Didn't Tell It All.

A man who had made a huge fortune was speaking a few words to a class at a business college. Of course, the main theme of his address was himself. "All my success in life all my financial prestige," he said proudly, "I owe to one thing alone—pluck. Just take that for your motto—Pluck, pluck, pluck!" He made an impressive pause here, but the effort was ruined by one student, who asked impressively: "Yes, sir, but please tell us how and when to pluck?"—London Answers.

Discovered.

Little Tommy had repeatedly been warned by his nurse as to the awful results of biting his nails, but all to no avail. So, as a last resource, she decided on harsher measures to cure him of the pernicious habit. "If you persist in biting your nails," she remarked, "you will swell out like an air balloon." Little Tommy believed, took heed and didn't bite his nails for two whole days. On the third day Tommy's mother was giving a party, quite a swell affair, and Tommy, on his promise of good behavior was allowed to partake of tea with his mother's guests. As soon as the tea was over Tommy edged close up to a very conspicuous lady of the party, cazed at her in silence for a few moments and then exclaimed, in a loud, awestruck voice: "I see you bite your nails."—Rochester Times.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 29.—The numerous hand bills posted throughout the country describe a complete and very attractive program for the Fourth of July celebration in this place. Perhaps the most popular features of the program will prove to be the grand parade at 2 P. M. of the patriotic address by Dr. Boyd of Jersey City at 3:30 and the play by the Boy Scouts in the Grange hall at 7:45, followed by a patriotic drill and exercise given by the Priscilla Club. The last mentioned will be a fitting climax to the day's celebration. Come in the morning, and stay to the finish. There will be a bountiful dinner and supper served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, also ice cream, home made candy, and other good things on sale.

On Sunday morning, July 2, Rev. Max Byer, field agent of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak in the Methodist Church on the work of that organization. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Byer will speak in the Reformed Church.

The Epworth League devotional meeting on July 2 will be led by Miss Josephine Hasbrouck. The subject is "Pulverize the Grog Shop. When? Why? How?"

The Methodist Church is very fortunate in having the services of Rev. Frank W. Wittkamp during the summer months. The people of the community should lose no opportunity to hear his series of sermons on the life of Christ, which will be resumed on July 9th.

The Ladies' Aid Society was entertained on the afternoon of June 28 at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Eckert.

Miss Helen Gilbert of New York city is the guest of Miss Helen Clark.

INCIDENTS OF "BONE"

Queer Things Done by Heinie Zimmerman of Cubs.

Left Third Base Unprotected to Carry Bat to Jack Miller—One Play in Cardinal Game Shows He Has Lots of Cunning.

The recent peculiar incident in a game in Chicago between the Cardinals and Cubs, when Jack Smith of the Cardinals stole third while Heinie Zimmerman left the base unprotected to carry Jack Miller's bat to him at the plate, has recalled a good many incidents of "bone" in the Great Zim's career, but one must not suppose that all the queer things he figures in are due to mental phases. For instance, Zim assisted in a play in a game between Cubs and Cards last year that showed he has a lot of craft in his makeup.

The game was a wild, woolly affair in which everything seemed to happen and finally Zimmerman came to bat. He had been spiked badly and had been out of the game for days.

He drove a ball far to center and limped to second, then hobbled to third. There were two out and two strikes on the batter. Manager Bresnahan delayed the game. He rushed to third base and ordered Zimmerman to get out and let him run.

He asked Manager Huggins' consent to let him run and still keep Zimmerman in the game. He made everyone in the game and most of the spectators know that he wanted to run for Heinie. Then he whispered to Zimmerman to steal home on the next pitched ball.

Thrown off guard the Cardinals paid no attention to the ruse and Zimmerman stole home and won the game.

One of the funniest things in which Zimmerman has figured occurred in Brooklyn last year, when he walked off first base, which he had reached on a hit, and had nearly reached second before the paralyzed Superbas awoke and nipped him. It then appeared that Zim thought three hands were out, and he was looking for his glove. In the same game he chased a runner caught between bases to the further base, which the harried Superbas reached in safety.

FANS MAKE INDIANS LAUGH

Zack Wheat and Chief Meyers Obligated to Talk English—One Is Coahuila, Other Cherokee.

Chief Meyers and Zack Wheat, the noble red men with the Brooklyn club, have many good laughs at sundry fans who want to know if they don't "talk Indian" to each other. "We have to talk plain English. Wheat and I," chirped Meyers, "for the very good reason that I could never understand a word of Zack's aboriginal speech, nor could he understand anything I might say in my own language. As near as I can make out, Zack's tribal speech and mine differ about as widely as French and Russian. I have it on Zack in one way, though; I speak three languages, English, Spanish and the Coahuila tongue, while Zack speaks only two—English and Cherokee."

LEE FOHL COACHES AT THIRD

Manager Stations Himself at Proper Place for Use of Good Judgment and Intelligence.

Lee Fohl is spending a lot of time on the coaching line at third base, which is the place for the use of judgment and intelligence in the coaching of a team. That is the point where the base runners must be guided as to the location of the ball, which they cannot see, and for this reason Fohl seldom coaches anywhere but at third.

Fans Not Serious.

While the Washington scribes have visions of a pennant this season, the "fans" are not taking the Nationals so seriously. The largest crowd of the series with Chicago recently was 1,700.

METTACAHONTS

Mettacahonts, April 29.—Mrs. Andrew Krom and daughters, Miss Roxie and Miss Orpha Krom, left on Wednesday for Lake Minnewaska, where they have summer positions awaiting them. Their many friends regret their leaving.

Mrs. David Depuy of Accord was dressmaking in town on Monday, at the home of Mrs. F. Zeaman. Mrs. Depuy's work is highly spoken of by all who have had dressmaking done, and is in great demand.

John Enderly, the efficient Whitefield carpenter, has nearly finished the remodeling of Jesse Osterhoudt's dwelling house. It presents a very pleasing and much improved appearance, with its forty foot veranda and other elegant additions, and it surely is a credit to Mr. Enderly and his coterie of experienced helpers.

Wild strawberries are very plentiful in this locality this season, for which housewives are very thankful, and are busy canning an unlimited supply, even if the price of sugar is still soaring high.

Miss Della Wood of Waterbury, Conn., will remain in town for two weeks, as the guests of Mrs. Eli Osterhoudt.

Frank Anderson was in this place the past week, calling on his mother, Mrs. Rachel Anderson.

Mrs. Ben Quick spent from Monday till Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. John B. Rider, at Whitfield.

Alton Diney is kept very busy working each day for Benjamin Rider.

Jacob Krom has been suffering with a very severe sore throat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Etten were out driving Sunday afternoon.

Miss Helen Quick has a summer position with Mrs. Max Rubenstein.

Jewish boarders from the city are plentiful in town.

Mr. Kelder has several of the finest strawberry patches hereabouts. Mr. Kelder keeps them in fine condition and has an extra fine crop this year of the large luscious fruit.

Lovely creations in midsummer millinery are being shown and among the most fetching are the all horse hair hats cleverly combined with floral clusters and soft grosgrain ribbons. Especially notable is the hat illustrated which is shown in black horsehair lace with medium wide brim which droops towards the edge and deep crown shadowed by an extension of the lace. Soft toned silk flowers and French blue grosgrain ribbon afford charming trimming.

"WOODSTOCK IDEA" FOR ART FREEDOM

Hervey White's Open Air Theatre Plans For Community Expression Commended by Ivan Nardony as Move Against Blighting Influence of Commercialism in Music.

Commercialism and its destructive influence upon art make up the burden of the complaint aired by Ivan Nardony who writes most instructively upon the subject in the current issue of Musical America and incidentally voices a hopeful note in picturing a counter-movement to the forces mentioned which is finding its expression in Woodstock, Ulster County, under the inspiration of Hervey White. Nardony is not pessimistic but merely accurate in his summary of conditions, in American which are, he states, the same as in all countries where commercialism is strong, art is weak and vice versa.

The Woodstock idea, in this author's opinion, is unique in its effort to socialize music and give an impetus toward the creation of a native American art free as possible in its expression and the absence of the taint of commercialism. The difficult problem presented and efforts toward its solution remind M. Nardony of the attempt of Hervey White in Woodstock, to enable all arts represented by members of that community to find an expression as free as wind or rain in nature and he continues:

"Mr. White built an open-air stage in an old stone quarry, overlooking a beautiful meadow and a romantic landscape, and the first music festival of the kind was given in August of last year. Mme. Nardony, Lada and Mme. Kefer acted as the soloists, and an orchestra of eighteen musicians played pieces of more or less popular character. This Woodstock Festival remains in the memory of the huge audience that attended it, as one of the most inspiring artistic events ever seen.

Mr. White intends this summer to have a sufficient number of musicians in Woodstock so that open-air Sunday concerts may be given regularly till the fall. The second music festival in August will be held on the same stage as last year. American and foreign composers are invited to submit their works to the Woodstock Music Festival Committee, and will find an appreciative audience, provided there is artistic merit in their work. Among those who will be soloists in the Woodstock concerts this summer are Hervey White, Mme. Maria Meier Nardony, Paul Kefer, Pierre Henrotte, Lada and others.

"Mr. White, while publishing a monthly magazine which he writes and prints himself, is doing something similar to what Tolstoy did in Russia. Mr. White is a champion of the art that emanates from nature, and he maintains that a country which lacks a national art has to find it in solitude and free nature. Since all folk-art of Europe originated in the rural parts, Mr. White thinks this should be the case with America. Mr. White was a prominent settlement worker in Chicago and co-operated with Jane Addams in her Hull House work. But he has come to the conclusion that it is not the city but the country in which is formed the backbone of a nation's art and soul. Artists lose the divine as soon as they get too interested in the material.

"The Woodstock attempt is perhaps the beginning of a new art. The idea of socialization of music is more important than has been admitted. That our material riches make us one of the foremost countries in the world should not blind us to our duty to seek that beauty and those ideals which lie beyond the reach of the dollar."

Mrs. Markle Explains.

To the Editor of The Freeman.

Dear Sir:

Will you give me the privilege of telling the true side of the trouble that existed between Mr. Tubby and I? The article in your paper said I refused to let my daughter go to the Army to see her husband. That is a deliberate falsehood. When the call came for him to go he telephoned to his father to come and take my daughter away from me and to take her to his home. This I objected to, and forbid him or his father to enter my house again. I sent for my daughter to come to get her presents. Her husband would not allow her, but compelled her to go to the recorder. I am a widow and depend on the public for my living and your article in the paper last night has injured my reputation and the people I work for have advised me to ask you to write a true statement. Sergeant Hanley entered my home when I was out working and along with the roughs of the neighborhood carried away a couple dollars worth of wedding presents.

Yours respectfully

MRS. CARRIE MARKLE

Wins Cornell Scholarship.

Ellenville carried off the honors in the competition for the Cornell university scholarships, awarded by the state at the ratio of one to each assembly district. The results of the examinations held earlier this month in Kingston in which a number of students competed have just been made public. Deyo Johnson winning first and Leo Larkin, second. Both were members of this year's graduation class of the Ellenville High School. Now that Ulster county has been cut from two assembly districts to one, the scholarship fell off to correspond. The scholarship entitled Mr. Johnson to four years tuition at Cornell university and in the event of his failure to accept, Mr. Larkin has the refusal of the same. In the event of a failure to qualify on the part of other assembly districts, Mr. Larkin would be entitled to one of the scholarships thus going to default.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

San Antonio, Tex., June 30.—Mexican soldiers at Ojinaga have not fired across the border nor has any effort been made by Carranzistas to cut the lines of communication of Brigadier-General John J. Pershing's forces in Mexico, it was stated today by Major General Funston. Reports that 17 Americans had been captured and were being held at Monterey were also denied by the American commander.

HOUSE BURNED IN PORT EWEN

Property Owned by David Parsell. Jr., Totally Wiped Out—Gasoline Torch of a Tinsmith at Work Thought to Have Caused Fire.

The two story frame house of David Parsell, Jr., on Broadway, Port Ewen, located near the residence of Judge McKenzie, was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. A tinsmith was at work on the roof of the house, and it is presumed by neighbors that the roof caught fire from his gasoline torch. The fire started in the roof, and as the building was of frame construction it burned like tinder, and in a short time was razed to the ground. The house was occupied by two families. The owner, Mr. Parsell, lived on the second floor, while the first floor was occupied by Mrs. Post and family. Whether the loss was covered by insurance, or not, could not be learned. Owing to the limited facilities for fighting the fire, the owners of adjoining houses were fearful of the flames spreading.

SCHOOL NO. 2 WINS LEAGUE CUP

With the close of the schools, the season of the Kingston Grammar School Baseball League has closed. The results of play are as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
School No. 2	6	0	1.000
School No. 8	5	1	.833
School No. 3	3	3	.500
School No. 5	2	4	.333
School No. 4	2	4	.333
School No. 6	1	4	.166
School No. 7	0	5	.000

The cup which was played for by the different teams is now being engraved and will be presented to the winning team of School No. 2 next week. The cup stands about 18 inches high and is very handsome.

Towards the end of the season some of the teams forfeited their games because of discouragement. The teams of Schools No. 2 and 8 each lost a game with other schools by forfeits of this kind, and as appears by the table printed above all the teams did not play their scheduled games.

Evidences of Patriotism.

On Wednesday evening, Charles H. Smith, brother of Harry Smith of West Pierpont street, this city, reached his home in Bronxville, N. Y., but to learn that the Old Guard, including the Spanish American veterans, would act as escort to Company V as they left for Camp Whitman early Thursday morning. By a piece of strenuous activity, Mr. Smith succeeded in catching the "Old Guard" train at the West Point, and reached Kingston about two o'clock Thursday morning, and joined his comrades of the Old Guard.

McGrath Out on Bail.

James McGrath, who shot his son, Thomas McGrath, at his home at Phoenixia on Saturday, June 17, and who was later committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree, was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000. His brother, John L. McGrath, and Eugene Gormley of Phoenixia, were the sureties on the bond. McGrath returned to Phoenixia this afternoon. He was represented on the application to Judge Jenkins by William H. Grogan, District Attorney Traver appeared for The People.

The Evil Eye.

It is probable that the "evil eye," for which many hapless old women were hurried to their death on the suspicion of witchcraft in "the good old days," was no more than a common squint, "cast" in the eye, or "bossing," as it is called in many parts of the country to this day, writes Dr. N. Bishop Harman in the British Journal of Children's Diseases. Not only was the squint thought to be of evil significance, but the defect itself was considered to be the work of evil spirits. In "King Lear" we find the following in the scene on the heath at night: "This is the foul fiend Filibertigibet. He begins at curfew and walks till the first cock; he gives the web and the pin, squints the eye and makes the harelip, midwinters the white meat and hurts the poor creature of earth."

Knew His Man.

George Bubb, better known as Bubb Doddington, one of the wits of the eighteenth century, always dined well and always liked to doze after the repast. Falling asleep one day after dinner with Sir Richard Temple and Lord Cobham, the latter reproached Doddington with his drowsiness. Doddington denied having been asleep and to prove he had not offered to repeat all Lord Cobham had been saying. Cobham challenged him to do so. Doddington repeated a story, and Lord Cobham owned he had been telling it. "Well," said Doddington, "and yet I did not hear a word of it. But I went to sleep because I knew that about this time of the day you would tell that story."

TWO BIRD GIRLS.

Aviation Is Said to Be Woman's Coming Profession.

"IT'S SUCH FUN TO FLY."

Already Two Women Are Making Exhibition Flights, and One Family, Two of Them Girls, Has Founded a School of Aviation in Texas.

Dressed in riding breeches and a natty Norfolk jacket and armed with (barnies) bombs, which she dropped over Manhattan, Miss Vera Pearce, accompanied by P. C. Millman, recently flew from Mineola, N. Y., over New York and around Battery park in a bi-plane.

Miss Pearce has a rival in this new field of enterprise for young women. Miss Katherine Stinson.

At Sheepshead Bay speedway this young lady, not yet twenty-one years old and weighing only 104 pounds, recently made two long, loose circles of the speedway. On the third time around, when she was about 2,000 feet above the initiation for they were building for the flying exhibition, she made a swallow's smooth downward curve, then sheered up and back over her own path, her head and the upper part of her machine downward toward the ground. For a moment the engine stopped; then the tune of it began again. Katherine Stinson for the several hundredth time had looped the loop, and three minutes later she landed without even a jolt. She had been up less than ten minutes.

Miss Stinson wears no elaborate aviation wardrobe.

After she doesn't even tuck her curls under her close fitting hood. She wears a short khaki skirt, high heeled boots and the two warmest coats she can find. Sometimes she wears riding breeches, but she doesn't in the least object to a skirt. She never allows wind or clouds to interfere with her flights. "But I don't like rain," she confessed. "It hurts. It feels exactly like silent when you fly in it."

Besides looping the loop, she has carried United States mail, dropped bombs, made night flights, down with her plane upside down and performed a number of other "stunts." "They always want some fancy thing thrown in at the exhibitions," she admitted carelessly.

"My sister Marjorie is only eighteen, and she's a flyer. My brother Edwin is twenty-three, and he flies. In San Antonio, Tex., we three are running the Stinson school of aviation. I have another brother fifteen years old, but he wants to go to West Point. My people on both sides fought in the civil war.

"And if America went to war tomorrow I'd be an army scout," Miss Stinson added stoutly. "I tried my best to make Pershing and Fuston, let me go to Mexico. But they wouldn't."

For the Creeping Baby.

Here is an interesting suggestion for the young mother with the active, creeping baby. Get a good sized gray blanket, preferably woolen. Cut out the pictures from a cloth nursery picture book and sew them to the blanket. The bright pictures will attract baby's attention, and he will pat and pick at them by the hour and keep perfectly contented on his soft, warm, creeping rug. This idea may also be used in connection with the baby fence, for baby may be left inside the fence with his pictorial floor covering and run no risks of falling on sharp plinthings.

Vanilla Bavaroise.

Take one and a half cupsfuls of milk boiled with vanilla pod and two ounces of sugar mixed when boiling with one envelope of gelatin; then stir on to two raw yolks of eggs; return to the stewpan and stir over fire till it thickens; then strain and when cool add half a pint of whipped cream and use.

Linen Hats.

For wear with the thin summer frock hats covered with linen and trimmed with flowers are especially pretty.

Different Kinds.

"I had a tooth extracted yesterday," remarked the fussy man, "and the dentist gave me gas."

"Oh, that's nothing," rejoined the man with the bald spot. "Every time I got shaved the barber gives me a lot of it."—Indianapolis Star.

O'Connell as an Orator.

Few orators have been so fortunate as Daniel O'Connell in their physical appeal to the senses. Grattan, Curran, Emmet, Sheil and Meagher were small men, not the least impressive to the eye. O'Connell was a man of royal aspect. His voice was seductively musical—the most musical, according to Disraeli, ever heard in the house of commons. It was soft, of great compass, capable of expressing every imaginable emotion. His eyes, light in color and full, flashed or beamed or burned, according to the sentiment expressed.

Lightning Rods.

There were no lightning rods in ancient times. The first one that the world ever saw was set up by our own illustrious countryman Benjamin Franklin shortly after the year 1732. He had just had his celebrated experiment with the kite, in which he demonstrated the identity of lightning with electricity, and was therefore prepared for the construction of the rods for which the world had waited so long. It is not generally known that Franklin was as distinguished in science as he was in statesmanship and diplomacy.—Exchange.

NEW YORK LEADS
OVER ALL STATES
IN AGRICULTURE

New York State is progressing steadily as an agricultural state, and there is indication that this progress will continue. That this state has big advantages over western states with regard to markets as well as in other points, is becoming generally understood. Progress is shown by the prizes which New York State agriculturists have been awarded for products at various expositions. Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson states that the department has succeeded in convincing many of the agriculturists in other states of the agricultural opportunities in this state, but there is still much to be done along this line.

The price of land in this state is lower by fifty, and in some cases seventy-five per cent, than that in other states in which there is no greater productivity of soil. Of the ten million inhabitants of New York State, eighty per cent reside in cities or villages, leaving a comparatively small percentage engaged in agriculture, which insures a ready demand for farm products. Transportation facilities are regarded as excellent, with steam and trolley lines serving all sections.

Although land in this state has been under cultivation for more than a century, it is still producing more per acre now than it ever has.

Results of New York State's agricultural educational policy and the progressive methods employed are shown in competition with other states.

At the Panama-Pacific Exposition, New York State was awarded the grand prize for its exhibit of fruit. It was also awarded the grand prize for its milk and cheese exhibits, with numerous awards to individual exhibitors, showing its standing as an agricultural state.

Gold medals were awarded to the following for fruit exhibits: H. L. Brown of Watport, orange quince; B. B. Ferris of Albion, twenty-ounce apples; J. A. Hepworth & Son of Hightstown, Jonathan apples; Grant Hinchings of Syracuse, Northern Spy apples; Pumpkin Sweet apples, twenty-ounce apples, Wolf River apples; R. C. Marshall of Albion, Northern Spy and Rhode Island apples; F. W. Mason of Albion, Roxbury apples; George Pettit of Watport, Tompkins King apples; Elizabeth Reynolds of Lockport, Baldwins and Tompkins King apples; Leslie Tanager of Medina, Fameuse apples; A. Van Vranken's Sons of Rexford, Delicious, Northern Spy, Wealthy, Winter Banana, Van Vranken's Seeding; Miss C. E. Martin of Auburn, ripe cucumber and green tomato.

Silver medals—Miss C. E. Martin of Auburn, fruit varieties in glass; A. G. Snyder of Albion, Tompkins King apples; C. A. Boller & Son of Sodas, Northern Spy apples; F. M. Bradley of Barker, Oldenburg apples; E. W. Catchpole & Son of No. Rose, Ben Davis apples; C. M. Harding of Albion, Baldwin apples; B. H. Henion of Brockport, Alexander apples; J. H. Heworth & Son, Milton, Baldwin, Yellow Newtown, Northern Spy and Sutton apples; Grant Hinchings of Syracuse, Alexander and Wealthy apples; W. E. Howard & Sons of Holley, Northern Spy apples; B. G. Wilson of Watport, Wealthy apples; H. E. Wellman of Kendall, Baldwin apples; Clark Allis of Medina, Rome apples; Seth Allis & Son of Holly, Northern Spy apples; J. S. Beckwith of Albion, Rhode Island apples; C. A. Boller & Son of Sodas, Esopus apples; B. J. Case & Co., Sodas, Wolf River apples; Mrs. H. L. Chase of Dresden, Northern Spy apples; C. M. Harding of Albion, Tompkins King apples; Grant Hinchings of Syracuse, Tompkins King apples; George R. Schaubert of Ballston Lake, Northern Spy apples; Snyder Bros. of Albion, Northern Spy apples; P. B. Wilson of Watport, Baldwin apples.

Gold medals—F. E. Dawley of Fayetteville, hay and alfalfa; R. C. Hastings of Malone, potatoes; Henry Harrison of Brockport, beans; Lincoln Agricultural School, Lincolnale, corn; Henry Lazarus of Dresden, corn; Walter C. Morris of Neperhan Heights, honey; G. T. Quick, Mendon, oats; Cornell University, Ithaca, cheese; Merrell-Soule Co., Syracuse, milk; Winters & Prophet, Mount Morris, peas; Adirondack Maple Co., syrup; Welch Grape Juice Co., juice.

Silver medals—George S. Atkinson of Albion, hay; D. K. Bell of Brighton, corn; J. T. Barber of Medina, beans; State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, butter and Farmington Report; George Clapp of Medina, beans; Edward F. Dibble of Honeyoy Falls, beans, hay and corn; W. T. COMMON AMERICAN BIRDS

WHITE-CROWNED SPARROW
(Zonotrichia leucophrys)

Length, seven inches. The only similar sparrow, the white-throat, has a yellow spot in front of eye.

Range: Breeds in Canada, the mountains of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, and thence to the Pacific coast; winters in the southern half of the United States and in northern Mexico.

Habits and economic status: This beautiful sparrow is much more numerous in the western than in the eastern states, where, indeed, it is rather rare. In the East it is shy and retiring, but it is much bolder and more conspicuous in the far West and there often frequents gardens and parks. Like most of its family it is a seed eater by preference, and insects comprise very little more than 7 per cent of its diet. Caterpillars are the largest item, with some beetles, a few ants and wasps, and some bugs, among which are black olive scales. The great bulk of food, however, consists of weed seeds, which amount to 74 per cent of the whole. In California this bird is accused of eating the buds and blossoms of fruit trees, but buds or blossoms were found in only 30 out of 516 stomachs, and probably it is only under exceptional circumstances that it does any damage in this way. Evidently neither the farmer nor the fruit grower has much to fear from the white-crowned sparrow. The little fruit it eats is mostly wild, and the grain eaten is waste or volunteer.

MAYOR GUARANTEES AID FOR SOLDIERS

On receipt of a letter from Captain Frank L. Meagher of Company M, which accompanied a complete roster of the company for official use of the city, Mayor Canfield on Thursday night wrote to Captain Meagher assuring him that the citizens of Kingston will not see families of the soldiers in want because of the men's patriotic act.

The correspondence is as follows:

Company M,
10th Infantry, (14th Separate Co.),
Third Brigade, N. G. N. Y.,
Kingston, N. Y.

Hon. Palmer Canfield, Jr., Mayor,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir: I am enclosing you a complete roster of Company M. I am doing this with the idea if Company M is called into service that you as the executive officer of the city will see that no member of the immediate family will be deprived of the necessities of life on account of any member of this organization taken into Federal service.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK L. MEAGHER,
Captain.

Mayor Canfield's Reply.

To the above communication,
Mayor Canfield responded as follows:

Office of the Mayor,
City of Kingston, New York,
Kingston, N. Y., June 29th, 1916.
Captain Frank L. Meagher,
Company M, 10th Infantry,
Third Brigade, N. G. N. Y.,
Camp Whitman,
Beekman, N. Y.

My Dear Captain: Your letter at hand. The boys of Company M have voluntarily sacrificed the usual means of earning their livelihood and of those dependent upon them, in behalf of their country. They have given up desired and valued things for the sake of another desired and valued thing, the honor of their nation.

The remaining citizens of Kingston will probably be unable to relieve the uneasiness of mind of the wives and mothers and others who are near and dear to your boys which will be caused by solicitude for their welfare. However, this city and its citizens would indeed be unduly and excessively naked in thought and feeling and patriotically pulseless if it permitted any uneasiness of mind to exist in any of the immediate members of the respective families of the boys of your company because of lack of proper sustenance.

If the drift of sentiment and feeling is indicated by this morning's demonstration at the departure of the company, the citizens of this city will manifest a free and generous heart and an open hand in imparting aid to any members of the families of the boys who may have been wholly or partially dependent upon them. I believe that I can speak for our citizens to the extent that they realize that the families of those who are with you are also indirectly serving their country by the sacrifice and loss which they have yielded and must endure for its sake.

Plans have been formed for a systematic effort of aid and assistance to the families. This will be supplemented as far as possible for the city itself. Fortunately at times, but unfortunately at other times, public aid is restricted by the iron law of economy. This law cannot be broken but it can be bent. This is the occasion when the iron law must be bent into a flexible bow of aid and co-operation. In this case it must be construed and executed in a liberal, yielding and pliant manner, so that the maximum amount of assistance possible will be given. We owe it to these families to encourage and comfort them and to furnish them with proper means of support, so that from a financial standpoint the family can continue as before.

You may tell your boys that they can rest assured that the citizens of Kingston and the city itself will not see the members of their respective families in want because of their patriotic act. The city and its citizens must and will take the place of the boys in respect to their families in a financial way. If any of them receive word from their respective families that they are in want or are not being properly cared and provided for, have them write or telegraph me, and I will personally investigate the matter and see that proper relief is given.

I appreciate your thoughtfulness in writing me at the time of your departure, which I know, was prompted by your interest in your boys. Give my regards to them and tell them that Kingston is proud of them.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.

JOHN HENRY WAGNER.

VETERAN HANS WAGNER TO BECOME A BENEDICT.

Pittsburgh, June 30.—John Henry Wagner, the veteran Pirate shortstop, is preparing to become a blushing bridegroom. County Detective John G. Smith admitted today that the great Hans will wed Bessie Baine Smith, aged 24, probably at the close of the baseball season next fall. Miss Smith, daughter of the county detective, is a popular young woman of Crafton Heights. She is an enthusiastic baseball fan and has attended nearly every game played here by the Pirates in the last four years. Wagner, as an amateur, played baseball with his intended bride's father on the back lots of Carnegie and Crafton. Smith was a pitcher and is just a few years older than the Pirate shortstop.

Telegram From Capt. Meagher.

A telegram from Capt. Frank L. Meagher, received Thursday afternoon after The Freeman had gone to press, stated that Company M arrived at Green Haven at 2:30 and the boys had made a hit with their song. Company M is the largest in the battalion. All the boys reached camp in good shape.

LAY IN MEATS FOR THE FOURTH AT Messinger's Saturday Sale

"What makes good meat?" we are often asked. The answer is too long for this space. You may be surprised to know how much—besides healthy cattle and scientific slaughtering, as a basis—depends upon the retail butcher. It's the clean, sanitary way we have of storing, handling, cutting and serving that makes this meat market stand out prominently as one especially worth patronizing for your Sunday and Fourth of July meats. Take advantage of our special Saturday Sale prices and be assured of savings as well as highest quality.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

We see that it is now recommended that the county jail be supplied with hot water. We always labored under the impression that it was only those who "get into hot water" ever went to jail.

Our own report of an inspection of the Ulster county jail made after reading in The Freeman how the jail needed shower baths, hot water and other luxuries:

It was exceedingly gratifying to find all parts of the jail satisfactorily clean. In this connection would say, however, that it works an unusual hardship on a prisoner confined in the jail as he is not used to such cleanliness, and it is liable to make him homesick. We would therefore recommend that the jail be kept not quite so clean.

We also noticed that the prisoners were forced to sleep in bunks. This inflicts untold privation on a prisoner, especially when he is confined in the jail for any length of time. We would recommend that brass beds be installed in each cell.

Prisoners are also forced to make up their own beds each morning. This should not be allowed to continue. The county should employ a chambermaid as it is not a man's work to make up his own bed.

Another bad feature of our present system in the handling of prisoners is the question of meals and the prisoner has absolutely no choice in the matter. He must eat whatever the jail authorities provide.

This is not right and the system should be abolished and arrangements made with the leading hotels to supply the meals.

We therefore recommend that each cell be equipped with a telephone so that the prisoner may have the privilege of calling up the hotel chef and ordering and selecting his own meals.

The idea that a man who commits a crime is sent to jail as a punishment is no longer tolerated in the best society of long haired men and short haired women and is old-fashioned. We should remember that a jail is not intended for the punishment, but the uplift of the prisoner. Spell "uplift" in capital letters.

If you don't believe us we simply refer you to any report of an inspection of the jail made in the past few years.

As everyone knows the average jailbird is madly anxious to bathe himself. Usually when out of jail he bathes once each year. And that in July, but as soon as he is confined in jail the unnatural desire assails him to bathe every day.

We recommend therefore that a large swimming pool be constructed on the first floor, and a shower bath be installed in each cell.

After our inspection of the jail we have reached the following conclusions which we group under the head of further recommendations:

The jail cells are altogether too small and each prisoner should be furnished with a room at least 10 by 12 feet with hot and cold water, bath, gas and electricity, telephone, brass bed, and all the most modern improvements. He should also be given an electric fan for warm nights.

Each prisoner should be allowed two boxes of cigars a week, several packages of pipe and chewing tobacco at the expense of the county. He should also be given his favorite beverage in as large quantities as he may desire.

An elevator should be installed in the jail as it is too much to ask a prisoner to walk up to the third tier of cells.

We also recommend that the prisoners be furnished with Ford's by the county so that they may enjoy some slight recreation in touring about the city and county when it is fair weather.

Another recommendation is that the rear of the jail yard should be excavated, a large pond built and stocked with fish and several row-boats placed thereon so that prisoners who do not care for automobile may fish and boat to their heart's content.

In conclusion we rise to say that when our recommendations are carried out, as they should be, we expect to hit a policeman over the head with a club so that Recorder Lang will sentence us to at least sixty days in the new county clubhouse.

ARDONIA.

Ardonia, June 29.—The weather man was very kind and sent the Ardonia Mothers' Club a beautiful night for their festival. There was a good attendance. Visitors were there from New York, Newburgh, Toughkeepsie and Kingston. The entertainment began with a parade headed by Boy Blue with his horn. Following him was Mother Goose carrying her goose, also the old shoe with the woman and her children overflowing it, and other Mother Goose children. The rest of the entertainment was folk dances, drills and songs by the children, and singing by Frank McGinn of Newburgh, Preston Paltridge of Ardonia and Alec Barclay of New Paltz, with Cecil C. Paltridge as accompanist. Much of the success of the entertainment was due to these musicians, who so kindly gave their time and talent to help the Mothers' Club.

TENTH REGIMENT FIGHTS POISON IVY

Men Had to Drag Heavy Wagon From Railroad to Camp—Biggest Regiment in Camp Whitman.

Singing Major Chandler's Tenth Regiment song, the members of Company M swept into Camp Whitman late Thursday afternoon, as was exclusively told in Thursday's Freeman, and were kept busy the remainder of the day, and this morning in getting things in shipshape. They are tented in the outskirts of the camp.

The Tenth Regiment, of which Company M is a unit, is the biggest regiment in camp and numbers just 1,815 men, and they have been allotted what is said to be the worst site in the camp. Big patches of poison ivy had to be dug up and buried before the boys could start pitching the tents, and that work took them until nearly 10 o'clock that night.

The Tenth was greeted with cheers by the other guardsmen in camp when they marched from the Green Haven station to its allotment at the extreme northwestern end of the camp.

Company M's detail in charge of the camp equipment found a "sweet" job on their hands when the train pulled into Green Haven, and that was the unloading of the heavy army wagon, which caused them some trouble in loading aboard the flat car at Rhinecliff. The job was to get it safely off the car and after that to get it over to Camp Whitman. Lacking horses the boys had to drag the heavy wagon.

No other regiment has had to go so far for water as the Tenth. A big tank which was to supply them was not ready and the men had to hike nearly a mile and a half for water. The road to the nearest well is over a steep hill with a stretch of woodland on the top which made the carrying of the water extremely difficult.

The Tenth's camp is pitched on two hillocks with a stretch of low ground between.

The Third battalion from Kingston, Hudson, Catskill and Poughkeepsie were the first to reach the camp while close on their heels came the First battalion of Albany.

Despite the arduous work of pitching the shelter tents and getting things ready and in shape before settling down to enjoy camp life the boys of Company M, as well as the others of the Tenth, are feeling in high spirits, and are only hoping that they will be given a chance to trim Carranza's whiskers.

According to Colonel Klein's figures the Tenth actually numbered fifty-two officers, 1,653 enlisted men, and 70 additional men whose enlistments have not yet been approved.

Those members of Company M who have not yet received their equipment including uniforms and guns, can hardly wait until they are fitted out when they will feel more like soldiers.

Colonel Klein expected to get busy today and seek equipment for the rookies. The regiment brought more rookies into camp than any other, but not a one was without a tent or a blanket Thursday night.

Reports from the camp state that all of the men of Company M are enjoying good health.

Tempted by Diamond, She Fell.

A diamond ring robbery on Memorial Day in Newburgh was revealed in the arrests of May Hunter, blonde and pretty, a 19 year old New York girl, who took the ring worth $225 from the room of Nathan Hoffman at the Hoffman Hotel, Newburgh. Two young men, Daniel Cornblum and Alfred Marks of New York, had the ring pawned for $115 of which they gave the girl $40. All are on bail awaiting the action of the Orange county grand jury but it is said there is little likelihood of indictment. She said she took the ring in a moment of temptation, having stepped into Hoffman's room to arrange her hair.

JURY ACQUITS CAPT. TAUSCHER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 30.—A verdict of not guilty was returned today in the trial of Captain Hans Tauscher, charged with conspiring to blow up the Welland Canal, in Canada.

Tauscher, who is agent for the Krupp interests in this country, was specifically accused of furnishing the dynamite with which pro-German sympathizers were to blow up the canal.

The defense was based upon the contention that Tauscher, while favoring the German cause, had asked Captain von Papen, former military attaché to the German embassy at Washington, to give him work to do which would not be in violation of the laws of this country.

BELOW—DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE
CONNAUGHT FOR POST IN IRELAND AND DEVONSHIRE FOR CANADIAN GOVERNORSHIP.

(Duke of Devonshire and Duke of Connaught.)

According to despatches from England the Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, and present governor-general of Canada, is slated to be the representative of royal authority in the six Ulster counties in Ireland which will not come under the home rule proclamation soon to be put in force.

To succeed Connaught as the royal representative in Canada, the Duke of Devonshire is proposed. Victor Christian William Cavendish, ninth Duke of Devonshire, is 48 years old and succeeded to the title in 1908 on the death of his uncle.

He owns approximately 185,000 acres of land and mines in Lancashire and Derbyshire. He has served in the House of Commons and was treasurer of the King's Household from 1901 to 1903. Later he became financial secretary of the treasury. He has been Lord Lieutenant of Derbyshire and president of the Territorial Forces.

The Duke is the owner of very valuable art collections. He is a member of Brooks, the Marlborough and Turk clubs.

His wife, whom he married in 1892, was formerly Lady Evelyn Fitzmaurice, daughter of the Marquis of Lansdowne. They have two sons and five daughters.

QUARRYVILLE.

Quarryville, June 30.—Mrs. Estell Magee is visiting friends in North Germantown.

William Quick and Frank Valkenburg, who are employed at Cohoes, spent Sunday at their home.

The trustees of the M. E. Church will hold a picnic on the church grounds afternoon and evening of July 4th. Supper will be served beginning at 5 p. m. All sorts of games to interest all and arrangements are being made to secure a speaker in the evening. Here is where we need you on the fourth.

S. W. Teetsel has secured his new auto and today was taking lessons in running it.

Miss Jennie Wolven, who is employed at Malden, spent Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Jesse Taylor and family attended the funeral of Jennie Richtmyer at Schenectady Saturday.

It is reported that a party from New York has rented the convalescent house for the summer months.

William Humphrey has been confined to his home for a few days by illness.

Henry E. Crans and family of North Germantown, spent Wednesday last at Arthur Magee's.

Mrs. Byron Markle and children of Stamford have returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. John Hallenbeck.

P. A. Billman of Highland spent Wednesday at Arthur Magee's.

A War Time Investment Opportunity!

The development of the Aeroplane is only in its infancy. $100 will enable you to catch this tide at ebb and profit dollar by dollar

as it comes to flood.

I say that this boat, when finished, will fly across the Atlantic in 30 hours. It is one-third finished. Has a length of 100 feet, and will carry 40 passengers. Years ago, when Sam P. Bell had perfected the telephone and talked of its wonderful possibilities, he was treated with contempt. A $100 investment then would have made you independent. You know how the big airships of Germany have flown miles across land and water, carrying heavy equipment. Since the war began the airship industry has made wonderful strides. After eight years of study and experimenting I am ready to offer a limited amount of stock in my company, feeling that it will revolutionize everything in airships. Every dollar I have in the world is invested in this project. I have spent $11,000 in patents and building operations. I would not ask the public for one cent if I could communicate with my friend in Europe. I have a working model 12 feet long. If you can afford to invest $100 in my proposition, I will be glad to talk with you personally and explain every detail. I will be glad to send you full particulars if you cannot call. Fill out the blank and send immediately.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATED

Whether inspired by the beautiful surroundings of the high school auditorium, or stirred by the events of the day, certain it is that the graduating exercises of the Eighth Grade pupils as held in the high school on Thursday afternoon was indeed a memorable affair. The stage full of bright boys and girls, with the background and great American flags and other decorations of American flags, offered an inspiring picture as the curtains were pulled aside. After welcoming the guests, Superintendent Michael said that he would explain a little about the arranging of the program. Said Mr. Michael: "It would not be strange if among our eight schools there should be much friendly rivalry. The best place on the program is, for some reason unknown to me, thought to be the middle numbers. To decide the respective places, the name of each school is written on a piece of paper, all are put into a hat, and the first drawn out is number one, the second, number two, etc." Mr. Michael then told of hearing a rehearsal of the program, in which he was more than impressed with the desirability of changing School No. 5 and giving it the last place on the program, and after those present had heard it he knew they would agree with him.

Following a pleasing selection by an orchestra composed of four of the Symphony Orchestra musicians, the schools rose and sang very sweetly, "May Pole Dance," by Jakobowski, Miss Paulding, superintendent of singing in the schools of Kingston, conducting.

Carroll F. Kearney, of School No. 7, was the first speaker, giving such a splendid recitation of "Claudius and Cynthia," that thrilling Roman story of the royal archer, that the audience held its breath, and almost forgot that a boy of today was "speaking a piece" in their vision of the tale as graphically, in clear tones, with dramatic yet not "eloquent" force, young Kearney without hesitation brought the long but thrilling tale to a close.

Then came Miss Marion J. Leighton, of School No. 6, who in a very charming, natural and realistic manner gave James Whitcomb Riley's quaint but very real child's story, "A Boy's Bear Story."

A second selection played by the orchestra and receiving hearty and deserved applause was followed by a humorous reading, "Johnny's History Lesson," wherein Miss Eva Stone, of School No. 3, told, with a merry twinkle in her eye, and a keen appreciation of its humor, Johnny's one sure date, "1492," upon which he hung all of his historic knowledge.

A forceful, exceedingly pertinent and admirably delivered recitation entitled "War," was given by Harold Shoemaker, of School No. 8. One of the most charming songs sung, and splendidly sung by the schools, was "Merry June," by Vincent. The parts were well taken and carried and the pulsing as well as some effect was delightful.

Miss Mary C. Healey, of School No. 1, gave as her recitation "What Shall I Be?" that home picture which shows the parental love that can change not one of its children, for any amount of ease and comfort, and it was well given.

Then came still another pleasing orchestral number, followed by a recitation given with fine realism and appreciation of the spirit of the poem, "Naught's Brier Rose," given charmingly by Ruth Scott, of School No. 2.

The last recitation for the afternoon was given by Otto H. Lang, of School No. 4, and was entitled "Father's Letter." Here a pleasant home picture was well drawn by the speaker, who also possessed and passed on to his hearers, a fine sense of the humorous turns in the to-be-written letter.

Then came the No. 5 participation in the program and Superintendent Michael prefaced it by telling how long before Captain Meagher had thought of going to war, the preparation of the children's part in the commencement exercises had been under way. Mr. Michael found the audience a thoughtful one beyond his experience with any other such audience, and said he knew all were from time to time thinking of the coders who marched away so gallantly in the morning. He felt sure, judging from the excellent care of and progress in School No. 5, that the boys under Captain Meagher would indeed be well looked after. Then he announced the number, which proved to be a sort of human picture of the Star Spangled Banner, which was entitled "Love for our Flag." In graceful and appropriate poses, Geraldine Moss, Mary Raschke and N. Rodie, each wearing draped about their shoulders a handsome large American flag, pictured the various scenes of our national song as it was finely sung by George Alton, whose clear, sweet boy soprano rang out proudly. It was an intensely silent audience that listened and looked until the last note died away, and then there was a great burst of applause that lasted to some time, and that gave vent to the pent-up feelings of the audience.

Following the singing of "Faith in the Future," by Lord, sung by the schools, Superintendent Michael briefly addressed the graduates, congratulating them upon their having succeeded in their battle with their regents examinations. He warned them that the work ahead of them in the high school, while it might be pleasanter in some ways, would be the hardest work they would ever have to do. However, if they approached those tasks, and later the tasks of life with a cheerful spirit and smiling face, they would surely win out, becoming capable, honest, good American citizens. Mr. Michael then presented the class to President Bernstein, who was to give them their diplomas. Briefly, pointedly and seriously, President Bernstein spoke to the boys and girls, whom he also congratulated as follows:

"Two high school students met shortly after supper and the following conversation ensued: 'Done your Algebra for tomorrow? None; done yours? None. Then lets go to the movies.' This bon mot gave me an inspiration for the thought I intend to convey to the boys and girls here this afternoon. I feel that the relatives and friends of the graduates came here this afternoon to do them honor, and I know that they have all thoroughly enjoyed, as I have, the excellent program rendered. Far be it from me as an official of the board to spoil the good impression that these students have made by a lengthy and tiresome address, therefore I will be brief in what I have to say to them, and trust that it may prove food for thought."

"I have spoken to you at different times in your class rooms and have tried to impress you with the importance of your grade work and what it would mean to you after you had entered the high school, and it is a source of great gratification to find that so many of you have passed your regents and are ready to begin your studies for the higher education that is to fit you to take up later, the more serious part of your life work. A good education is as essential to a commercial as to a professional career, and will aid materially to your advancement in any position that you may be called upon to occupy. Should you decide upon a course of idleness and pleasure seeking with just enough of study to pull you through, your whole life will be a reflection of your work and without attainment. On the other hand, should you put your whole heart into the work, you will not only derive the full benefit thereof, but have with it the satisfaction that comes through honest effort. In conclusion let me say, should you be tempted to neglect your studies by reason of strong desire for amusement, recall this warning of Moore's, so beautifully expressed: 'The roses of pleasure seldom live long enough to adorn the brow of him who plucks them; they are the only roses which do not retain their sweetness after they have lost their beauty.'"

Diplomas were then presented to the pupils, whose names were printed in the Freeman several days ago. The name of Harvey Keator of School No. 7, does not appear on the list, although he would have graduated had it not been for his leaving as a member of Company M, with that company for Camp Whitman.

NOMBACUS HEIGHTS.

Nombacuss Heights, June 29.—Owing to the threatening weather Sunday evening, there were not many at the evening service in the M. E. Church. Those who were fortunate enough to be there, however, were treated to an excellent sermon or bible story by the Rev. A. Quick. Everyone is cordially invited to these inspiring Sunday evening meetings.

The Lavine and Ultrafr boarding houses have a number of boarders from the city.

Miss Olive Smith returned home Monday after spending some time with relatives in Ellenville. While there she successfully passed the regents' examinations and is now qualified for high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandyke Churchill and son, Mrs. Mary Churchill and Mrs. Sam Osterhoudt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William DePuy on Sunday and attended service in the M. E. Chapel.

The mountain laurel is a thing of beauty now, though it may not be a joy forever.

F. P. Smith and son were in Palontown Tuesday sawing wood for parties there, with their gasoline outfit.

By the addition of a dining room, the Rev. A. Quick has added to the convenience of his cosy home. William DePuy did the carpenter work.

John Bell of Palontown, who has been assisting Thomas Morehouse for a few days, has returned home.

WAR TAX NOT TO BE REPEALED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, June 30.—The plan of administration leaders to repeal a portion of the war stamp tax July 1 has been abandoned. The unlooked-for developments in the Mexican situation promising a need for heavy expenditures during the next year or two are responsible for the change in plan. It was stated at Secretary McAdoo's office. It was declared, however, that the tax act, which expires by limitation December 31, will not be renewed.

The administration leaders had planned to take the stamp tax off deeds, notes, stock certificates, wines, tobacco, theaters, bankers and brokers and cosmetics and perfumery, by repealing a portion of the emergency revenue bill. So much revenue would have to be sacrificed that the treasury cannot afford to carry out the plan, it is stated now.

'THE BOULEVARD' A CITY DISGRACE

One of the worst pieces of road in the county is the section of the Rosendale road that is within the limits of the city of Kingston. The state, county and town of Rosendale co-operated in building a good road from the city limits to Rosendale, but for more than a mile one has to pass over a city "street" in order to reach this road. This "street" was years ago in a satanic mood of the common council, renamed The Boulevard, which means a broad avenue, especially such an avenue decorated with trees. The city has made a boulevard of a street leading to a cemetery, but has left a street leading to an important section of the county like a mountain trail. The street department does not seem to know that The Boulevard exists.

Newburgh Graduate to Marry.

The first engagement to be announced in the class of 1916 of Newburgh Academy is that of Miss Melba Averill Clark of Newburgh and Charles Powell Townsend of Milton. The announcement of the engagement was made at the close of a reception which Mr. and Mrs. George Avery Clark, parents of Miss Clark, held in their home, No. 354 Montgomery street, in honor of the city's graduates. The sister of the prospective bride, also one of the graduates, Mrs. Townsend is also a graduate of the Newburgh Academy, being a member of the class of 1913. In the fall of that year he entered Wesleyan college and will begin his senior year in that institution in the fall. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Townsend, Jr., of Milton.

To Help Get Artificial Limb.

The Rising Sons and Daughters of Decevolence will give a grand reception at Mennerchor Hall on the third of Monday evening for the purpose of raising funds with which to procure an artificial limb for their brother Frederick Elmendorf. Good music will be furnished. George M. Tierstedt is president of the lodge. The committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. Beatrice Fitzgerald, chairman; Mrs. Anna Van Wyke, treasurer; Mrs. Essie Johnson, secretary. All members of the lodge are members of the general committee.

THE LITTLE LACEMAKER

By SADIE OLCOTT

"I wish my son would marry and settle down."

These words were spoken by Mrs. Mainwaring of Baltimore to Mrs. Stetson of Providence while the two ladies were listening to the orchestra at the Casino at Luzerne, Switzerland.

"My Alice," replied Mrs. Stetson, "will be out of school within a few days, and I shall have the matrimonial problem for her on my hands."

"How I wish," rejoined Mrs. Mainwaring, "that I could get her for Dick."

"I should be very happy at the alliance, I assure you; but, from what you say, your son will not marry."

"He will fall in love with some innocent country girl, unsophisticated and uncultivated."

The result of this dialogue when concluded was a scheme to throw together Alice Stetson as a Swiss lacemaker and Dick Mainwaring. When Miss Alice returned from school the plan was proposed to her not as one to make a match for her, but as a lark. She was by no means averse to it. Dick was on the way from Italy to join his mother, and when he arrived he found domesticated with her a very pretty girl dressed in the attractive costume of the country, filling an order for lace.

Alice, who took the name of Gretchen and was supposed to speak only German—the language of eastern Switzerland—not in a chair before a board on which she worked the threads. A real lacemaker had taught her to do the simplest kind of work, which was all that was needed.

Upon his arrival, seeing the little lacemaker at work in his mother's boudoir, he went up behind her and watched her work. Believing her to be unconscious of his presence, he said:

"Frau!en, your delicate fingers are well adapted to such fine work."

Gretchen turned and, seeing a young man bending over her, appeared to be very much disconcerted and made no reply, proceeding with her work. Mainwaring, thinking that the girl did not understand English, repeated what he had said in German.

"Ach, herr," she replied, "you flatter me."

Dick heard his mother approaching and, not caring to be caught chatting with her employee, walked away. But Gretchen was always there—that is, when Dick was there—and it was as impossible for him to keep away from her as for a bee to ignore a flower. Alice may have just left school, but she had a woman's natural spiderly instinct in catching a fly. She waited till Dick began to say tender things to her, then mildly reproved him for talking thus to one so far beneath him. The next stage was that she listened to him, but reminded him that if his mother came to suspect that he was saying them she would discharge her employee at once. Here forbiddance fruit came in to make it all the more interesting for the young Lothario, and it was not long before he endeavored to steal a kiss.

The lacemaker put him away with a look so reproachful that it made him feel as if he had been stealing pennies from a Salvation Army children's fresh air fund. He stammered an apology, but she told him that if he respected himself and wished her to respect him, he must not speak to her again unless in the presence of his mother. However, on his promise not to try to steal any more kisses he might occasionally say a very few words.

It must be admitted that Dick was at a disadvantage. Miss Stetson was a lady, quite a beauty, with a very soft voice and softer eyes, and to crown all she was dressed in one of the prettiest national costumes in the world. Within three days she began to interfere with Dick's day dreams, and as for his night dreams he was unable to sleep. He tossed about in bed, lamenting the fact that the lacemaker was only a poor Swiss girl with whom an alliance would be impossible. Now and again he would resolve to throw common sense to the winds; then would bring himself up with a round turn, wondering if he had become insane.

One morning he entered his mother's boudoir, expecting to find the lacemaker, but instead found the room vacant. It seemed as if some one had turned off a thousand candle power electric light. Mrs. Mainwaring came into the room, and Dick asked:

"M-m-mother, what's become of your little lacemaker?"

"Oh, she finished the work I gave her to do and has gone home."

Dick said nothing further, but his mother watched his woe-begone expression with satisfaction.

The next evening at the Casino Mrs. Mainwaring introduced her son to her friend, Miss Stetson. Miss Stetson in propria persona was chatting with a handsome American gentleman. When Dick was introduced she bowed graciously. Dick was dumfounded. As soon as he could speak to his mother without being overheard he asked what it all meant. He was told that Miss Stetson was a girl of the new woman order and had learned to support herself by making lace.

When Alice's attendant left her and Dick joined her, in her eye was a merry twinkle. As for Dick, the great relief in his heart found expression in his radiant countenance.

CATCHER OF TODAY IS WALKING FORTRESS

Catchers are protected by all sorts and manners of armor. They have masks, mitts, chest protectors and bands on their shoes to shield them from foul tips. In only one place are they liable to injury. This is their neck. Occasionally a foul hits them there, and the injury is not only unusually painful but dangerous.

Jack Lapp, now catcher of the White Sox, was struck there some years ago and for a few days it was feared he had lost the power of speech. Even today his voice is not what it was before he was hurt.

Lapp has tried all sorts of contrivances to protect his neck, but in no instance have they proved practical.

DIAMOND NOTES

The Reds are playing a bangup game at present.

Alex McCarthy is playing a grand game at second base.

Covelski is the stay of the Detroit pitching staff at present.

Washington, with a team in the first division, is drawing poor crowds.

Lee Fohl is certain he will develop Grover Lowdermilk into a dependable hurler.

It doesn't always follow that a ball club is on the market when it's under the hammer.

The venerable and doddering Nap Lajoie seems to have slumped into his second cloutch.

"Ed" Walsh, famous pitcher of the White Sox, is seeking a job as a minor league umpire.

The great showing of the Giants pitchers reflects glory on their coach, T. Sebastian Doolin.

Lee Fohl isn't much of a manager. He is just a poor sump who has piloted a team into first place.

Three-Finger Brown is to retire from baseball at the close of the present season, according to report.

A recent report is that Benny Kauff leads Ty Cobb in everything but batting, fielding and scoring runs.

Elmer Knetzer, who has been on trial with the Reds, has been taken over permanently from the Braves.

"Bill" Rariden is rated as a 200 hitter, but pitchers have a wholesome respect for him with runners on bases.

Fleider Jones may be speaking the truth when he says he has a good team, but we haven't seen him out driving yet.

While the makeshift outfield is working pretty well for Cincinnati, Charley Herzog is looking far and wide for an outfielder or two.

Rodriguez, the Cuban first baseman, who could not hit with the Giants, is going at a 350 clip for New London, in the Eastern league.

Pick, of the Athletics, holds the season's record for stolen bases. He pilfered four on Grover Hartley, one-time Giant, now of the Browns, in a recent game.

BIG FAVORITE IN MILWAUKEE

Roger Bresnahan Has Good Reasons for Love of Cream City—Made Record for Slugging.

Roger Bresnahan, former pilot of the Cubs and now the head of the Toledo ball club in the American association, is a great favorite in Milwaukee, and every time he visits the city of brew it brings back fond memories to him.

The duke once established a world's record for hitting there. It was in 1901, when Bresnahan was with Baltimore, in the year the American league was born.

Connie Mack was manager of the Brewers that year, the Athletics not being in existence.

The occasion of the record performance was during a double-header. Mack used Pink Hawley in the first game and Billy Reilly in the second, and Bresnahan enjoyed a batting matinee.

In the first game, Roger cracked out three home runs and three triples at the expense of Hawley, and in the second he rapped Reilly for two doubles and three singles—a total of 28 bases.

Although it is 16 years since Roger performed so valiantly, there are fans at every game here who talk about that afternoon, and who live in the hope that they will again see the iron duke duplicate his feat.

Features at Opening Game.

One feature of the opening game of the season at Portland was the release of several hundred pigeons on the ball yard, making a beautiful sight as they flew away. Another feature was the hitting of two home runs by Benny Brief of Salt Lake, which was not near so beautiful to Portland fans. Brief got three other hits besides his homers in five times at bat.

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

PROFIT IN RAISING TURKEYS

Farmers Are Cautioned to Give Marketing Problems More Attention—Best Birds for Breeding.

For those who conduct the business carefully turkey raising is likely to be very profitable. The demand in this country continues to increase, apparently, faster than the supply. Farmers who go into the business, however, are cautioned to give the marketing problem considerable attention in advance.

In the turkey publications of the United States department of agriculture, which is Farmers' Bulletin No. 200, the following rules for selecting turkeys for breeding are given:

First—Always use as breeders turkey hens over one year old. Be sure they are strong, healthy, and vigorous, and of good medium size. In no instance select the smaller ones. Do not strive to have them unnaturally large.

Second—The male may be a yearling or older. Do not imagine that large, overgrown males are best. Strength, health, and vigor, with well-proportioned, medium size, are the main points of excellence.

Third—Avoid close breeding. New blood is of vital importance to turkeys.

The Great American Bird.

Better send a thousand miles for a new male than to risk the chances of inbreeding. Secure one in fall so as to be assured of his health and vigor prior to the breeding season.

BETTER ATTENTION TO EGGS

They Should Be Uniform in Color and Shape, and Regular in Size as Far as Possible.

More attention should be paid to eggs at all times and under all circumstances. This means that they should be uniform in color and shape and regular in size as far as possible. If they had more attention paid to them at our fairs and were brought to the notice of the public and the farmers in particular, much good would come from it. Let us offer good prizes for a display of eggs, say not less than three dozen, and have it stipulated that they be strictly fresh; that no cold storage stock need apply for the sake of selecting for size. If such a plan were carried out at a number of our fairs for a few years the selection of good eggs would get to be a science and would interest the poultry public to a great degree, and be of untold benefit to all of us, whether as producers or consumers of eggs.

GOOD POULTRY FEED ADVICE

Poor Economy to Give Fowls but One Kind of Grain—Make Them Exercise by Scratching.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain, for that compels them to eat more than they ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements.

A large part of the egg is water, which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure clear water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected.

A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching for whole and cracked grains in a deep litter of clean material and jumping for green food, such as a cabbage or mangels.

Fattening Water Fowls.

By putting some care into the fattening of water fowls the farmer's wife will be able to realize more out of them. She will be in shape to select orders for fine table water fowl; and once her name is established she will have more orders for them than she can fill.

Drafts Mean Roup.

A draft in the poultry house means roup in the flock. Prevention is the best method and much cheaper than the cure.

(By La Racontense).

Silk jersey sport coats are very modish at the present time and may be had in many attractive color combinations. Among the most popular are the green, blue, rose, yellow and orange stripes on a white ground. The average length is from hip or knee, the latter undoubtedly being very smart, but only becoming on the tall woman. In the illustration white and green is adapted. The roomy pockets, narrow belt and deep rever collar are interesting features.

INCIDENTS OF "BONE"

Queer Things Done by Heinie Zimmerman of Cuba.

Left Third Base Unprotected to Carry Bat to Jack Miller—One Play in Cardinal Game Shows He Has Lots of Cunning.

The recent peculiar incident in a game in Chicago between the Cardinals and Cubs, when Jack Smith of the Cardinals stole third while Heinie Zimmerman left the base unprotected to carry Jack Miller's bat to him at the plate, has recalled a good many incidents of "bone" in the Great Zim's career, but one must not suppose that all the queer things he figures in are due to mental phases. For instance, Zim assisted in a play in a game between Cubs and Cards last year that showed he has a lot of craft in his makeup.

The game was a wild, woolly affair in which everything seemed to happen and finally Zimmerman came to bat. He had been spiked badly and had been out of the game for days.

He drove a ball far to center and limped to second, then hobbled to third. There were two out and two strikes on the batter. Manager Bresnahan delayed the game. He rushed to third base and ordered Zimmerman to get out and let him run.

He asked Manager Huggins' consent to let him run and still keep Zimmerman in the game. He made everyone in the game and most of the spectators know that he wanted to run for Heinie. Then he whispered to Zimmerman to steal home on the next pitched ball.

Thrown off guard the Cardinals paid no attention to the cripple and Zimmerman stole home and won the game.

One of the funniest things in which Zimmerman has figured occurred in Brooklyn last year, when he walked off first base, which he had reached on a hit, and had nearly reached second before the paralyzed Superbas awoke and nipped him. It then appeared that Zim thought three hands were out, and he was looking for his glove. In the same game he chased a runner caught between bases to the further base, which the harried Superbas reached in safety.

Heinie Zimmerman.

FANS MAKE INDIANS LAUGH

Zack Wheat and Chief Meyers Obligated to Talk English—One is Coahuilla, Other Cherokee.

Chief Meyers and Zack Wheat, the noble red men with the Brooklyn club, have many good laughs at sundry fans who want to know if they don't "talk Indian" to each other. "We have to talk plain English. Wheat and I," chirped Meyers, "for the very good reason that I could never understand a word of Zack's aboriginal speech, nor could he understand anything I might say in my own language. As near as I can make out, Zack's tribal speech and mine differ about as widely as French and Russian. I have it on Zack in one way though; I speak three languages, English, Spanish and the Coahuilla tongue, while Zack speaks only two—English and Cherokee."

LEE FOHL COACHES AT THIRD

Manager Stations Himself at Proper Place for Use of Good Judgment and Intelligence.

Lee Fohl is spending a lot of time on the coaching line at third base, which is the place for the use of judgment and intelligence in the coaching of a team. That is the point where the base runners must be guided as to the location of the ball, which they cannot see, and for this reason Fohl seldom coaches anywhere but at third.

Fans Not Serious.

While the Washington scribes have visions of a pennant this season, the "fans" are not taking the Nationals so seriously. The largest crowd of the season with Chicago recently was 1,700.

Libraries for National Guard.

An arrangement has been made by the New York State Library whereby the men at the front will be supplied with books. Each regiment or independent unit of the state forces will be sent libraries of from 50 to 250 volumes which may be kept until a fresh supply is needed, in accordance with a system similar to that used in English, French and German armies. These libraries will include books on military science, engineering, topography and similar subjects for the instruction of officers and men, books on Mexico and the southern American states, recent books on American history, social conditions, literature and good fiction. The quartermaster's department is expected to arrange for the distribution of the books and for keeping the proper charging records. In addition to this loan service, the State Library will arrange for the forwarding and distribution to the troops of such books of a similar nature and of such periodicals as individuals, libraries, clubs or other organizations may care to contribute, if the publications upon examination prove to be suitable for the purpose. This material may be sent to the State Library, which will bear the transportation charges, but only such books and magazines should be included as are likely to be of real interest and value. Duplicate copies of books or those no longer of use in libraries can be used to advantage, if not too badly soiled or worn. Shipments should be addressed to New York State Library, Albany, N. Y., and notification of shipment mailed to same address.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, June 30.—Some day the baseball magnates will awaken to the fact that it would be awfully good advertising if they permitted the fans to keep all the baseballs that are batted into the stands during the progress of a regular game.

In every ball park in the country there always is a mad scramble among the folks to grab—and to keep—a ball that has been clouted among them. Some Puritans claim that the action of a fan in keeping a ball sizes up as petty larceny; legally, that is true. But the fan isn't taking the ball because of its material value, but because of sentiment. Some few days ago a ball was fouled into the Polo Grounds grand stand. Three fans, who in real life are distinguished business men, made a dive for it. An usher did likewise. A free-for-all fight for the possession of a $1.25 ball ensued. The quartet rowed so long and so vigorously over that ball that a guardian of the law came along and "jugged" them.

Now those three fans were men of ample means. They had enough money, collectively, to buy probably 300,000 baseballs. But they didn't want any old baseball. They wanted the ball that the big leaguers had played with; one they could keep as a souvenir; something to show to their friends in after years.

Paid $25 for $1.25 Ball.

Back in the 1912 world series conflicts between the Red Sox and Giants, Tris Speaker lammed out a triple that tied up the game, and sent the series to eight games. The ball was fouled into the stands by the next batter. A fan got it. A neighboring "bug" rushed over and made a bid for that ball.

"I'll give you $25 for it," he said. "Why are you so anxious to get this ball?" the other asked.

"Because I want something that I can show to my friends—a real souvenir of a ball game," replied the other. "Speaker always has been my favorite. I've seen him play a hundred times. I always wanted something to bring him into closer memory. This ball you have there will do it. It's the one Tris hit and which probably has saved us from losing this game."

And that fan got the ball.

Fan's Ambition is Souvenir.

So it is everywhere around the circuit. Baseball fans—the radicals—are so anxious to get a baseball that has history attached to it, that they willingly risk arrest for petty theft. They are willing to fight among themselves for such a ball, if necessary. A blackened optic or a busted beeper, in their opinion, is a mere incident—if they only get that pellet.

The magnates know this feeling among the fans, yet none ever has come forward and told fans that it may keep the balls that are batted into the stands. The moguls, to date, have been too miserly and too thick. They see only that each ball that is grabbed by a fan means a direct money loss to them. They fail to realize that a rule allowing fans to keep the ball would be a mighty good stroke of business.

Oftentimes we have counted the number of baseballs that are sent into the stands during the progress of a game. Some days it ran up to eight or ten. On other occasions the total has been two or three. At any rate, the average is not beyond six per game. At $1.25 each, that means the moguls would lose $9 per day on baseballs—an item so insignificant in comparison with the other expenses of a ball club that it hardly would be noticed.

It is our opinion that the magnates would not suffer a dead loss of $9 per day if they did permit the fans to retain the balls batted into the stands. Seems to us, from what we know about fans, that the mere fact that there was a chance of their getting a souvenir baseball would draw at least a dozen extra fans a day. Six baseballs divided among 5,000 to 25,000 fans doesn't give any one person a real big chance. But the fans, as a rule, are willing to gamble on their individual chance of getting one of these six balls.

The magnate who first adopts such a rule will be a popular person. The rule doesn't like miserliness—and he does like liberality, and a show of good fellowship. He will whoop 'er up for the first magnate who tells him he can keep those balls. And the magnate will become a small-size hero.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, June 29.—Miss Treasa Myers has returned home for the summer vacation, after spending the winter at Hunter's College, New York city. Miss Myers has taken up a four year course and passed her examinations with honor.

Mrs. Laura Broadhead of Ellenville spent a few days the past week with her sister, Mrs. Edward Van Demark. Mrs. Mary Carman died at the home of Myron Wood at Ellenville on Thursday of last week. The funeral will be held on Sunday at 2 o'clock at the house. Burial at Faintinekill in the family plot. Deceased was 81 years 8 months of age and was a member of the M. E. Church of this place for over fifty years and during her early life was a worker for the church. The floral offerings were beautiful.

Miss Hilda Myers spent a few days in Cornwall the past week.

Edward Terwilliger is doing the plumbing work in Maynard DeWitt's new building.

Don't forget to come to Kerhonkson the 4th of July. There will be a street parade and good music. Super will be served in the basement of the M. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Davis and Daughter, Marion of Ashokan spent a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson.

Homer Wynkoop is ill with an attack of appendicitis.

Myron Schoonmaker is home from Kingston for a few days. He has had hand which he hurt in the mill he is working in.

Mrs. William Simpson spent a few days in New Paltz the past week.

Shawkey beat his old team mates and enabled the Yanks to tighten their hold on first place.

Are the Indians going to slump now that they have lost the lead?

The Phillies gave the Giants a double dose. Not much jinx chasing in that.

The Tigers were swept out of the first division. So were the Red Sox. The newcomers in the front ranks are the White Sox.

The managers in the National are asking, "Who is going to stop the Dodgers?" The Robins seem to check any such attempt.

Four shut-outs marked the nine games played yesterday. The Giants, Athletics, Red Sox and Indians were the victims.

PATAUKUNK.

Pataukunk, June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burger and daughter of Ellenville visited his mother, Mrs. Lottie Burger, on Sunday.

WOODSTOCK IDEA FOR ART FREEDOM

Hervey White's Open Air Theatre Plans For Community Expression Commended by Ivan Nardony as Move Against Blighting Influence of Commercialism in Music.

Commercialism and its destructive influence upon art make up the burden of the complaint aired by Ivan Nardony who writes most instructively upon the subject in the current issue of Musical America and incidentally voices a hopeful note in picturing a counter-movement to the forces mentioned which is finding its expression in Woodstock, Ulster County, under the inspiration of Hervey White. Nardony is not pessimistic but merely accurate in his summary of conditions in America which are, he states, the same as in all countries where commercialism is strong, art is weak and vice versa. The Woodstock idea, in this author's opinion, is unique in its effort to socialize music and give an impetus toward the creation of a native American art free as possible in its expression and the absence of the taint of commercialism. The difficult problem presented and efforts toward its solution remind M. Nardony of the attempt of Hervey White in Woodstock to enable all arts represented by members of that community to find an expression as free as wind or rain in nature and he continues:

"Mr. White built an open-air stage in an old stone quarry, overlooking a beautiful meadow and a romantic landscape, and the first music festival of the kind was given in August of last year. Mrs. Nardony, Lada and Mrs. Kefer acted as the soloists, and an orchestra of eighteen musicians played pieces of more or less popular character. This Woodstock Festival remains in the memory of the huge audience that attended it as one of the most inspiring artistic events ever seen."

Mr. White intends this summer to have a sufficient number of musicians in Woodstock so that open-air Sunday concerts may be given regularly till the fall. The second music festival in August will be held on the same stage as last year. American and foreign composers are invited to submit their works to the Woodstock Music Festival Committee, and will find an appreciative audience, provided there is artistic merit in their work. Among those who will be soloists in the Woodstock concerts this summer are Hervey White, Mrs. Maria Mieler Nardony, Paul Kefer, Pierre Henrotte, Lada and others.

"Mr. White, while publishing a monthly magazine which he writes and prints himself, is doing something similar to what Tolstoy did in Russia. Mr. White is a champion of the art that emanates from nature, and he maintains that a country which lacks a national art has to find it in solitude and free nature. Since all folk-art of Europe originated in the rural parts, Mr. White thinks this should be the case with America. Mr. White was a prominent settlement worker in Chicago and co-operated with Jane Addams in her Hull House work. But he has come to the conclusion that it is not the city but the country in which is formed the backbone of a nation's art and soul. Artists lose the divine as soon as they get too interested in the material."

"The Woodstock attempt is perhaps the beginning of a new art. The idea of socialization of music is more important than has been admitted. That our material riches make us one of the foremost countries in the world should not blind us to our duty to seek that beauty and those ideals which lie beyond the reach of the dollar."

Mrs. Markle Explains.

To the Editor of The Freeman.

Dear Sir: Will you give me the privilege of telling the true side of the trouble that existed between Mr. Tabby and I? The article in your paper said I refused to let my daughter go to the Armory to see her husband. That is a deliberate falsehood. When the call came for him to go he telephoned to his father to come and take my daughter away from me and to take her to his home. This I objected to, and forbid him or his father to enter my house again. I sent for my daughter to come to get her presents. Her husband would not allow her but compelled her to go to the recorder. I am a widow and depend on the public for my living and your article in the paper last night has injured my reputation and the people I work for have advised me to ask you to write a true statement. Sergeant Hanley entered my home when I was out working and along with the roughs of the neighborhood carried away a couple dollars worth of wedding presents.

Yours respectfully
MRS. CARRIE MARKLE

Wine Cornell Scholarship.

Ellenville carried off the honors in the competition for the Cornell university scholarships, awarded by the state at the ratio of one to each assembly district. The results of the examinations held earlier this month in Kingston in which a number of students competed have just been made public. Deyo Johnson winning first and Leo Larkin, second. Both were members of this year's graduation class of the Ellenville High School. Now that Ulster county has been cut from two assembly districts to one, the scholarship will fall to correspond. The scholarship entitles Mr. Johnson to four years tuition at Cornell university and in the event of his failure to accept, Mr. Larkin has the refusal of the same. In the event of a failure to qualify on the part of other assembly districts, Mr. Larkin would be entitled to one of the scholarships thus going to default.

NEW YORK LEADS OVER ALL STATES IN AGRICULTURE

New York State is progressing steadily as an agricultural state, and there is indication that this progress will continue. That this state has big advantages over western states with regard to markets as well as in other points, is becoming generally understood. Progress is shown by the prizes which New York State agriculturists have been awarded for products at various exhibitions. Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson states that the department has succeeded in convincing many of the agriculturists in other states of the agricultural opportunities in this state, but there is still much to be done along this line.

The price of land in this state is lower by fifty, and in some cases seventy-five per cent, than that in other states in which there is no greater productivity of soil. Of the ten million inhabitants of New York State, eighty per cent reside in cities or villages, leaving a comparatively small percentage engaged in agriculture, which insures a ready demand for farm products. Transportation facilities are regarded as excellent, with steam and trolley lines serving all sections.

Although land in this state has been under cultivation for more than a century, it is still producing more per acre now than it ever has.

Results of New York State's agricultural educational policy and the progressive methods employed are shown in competition with other states.

At the Panama Pacific Exposition, New York State was awarded the grand prize for its exhibit of fruit. It was also awarded the grand prize for its milk and cheese exhibits, with numerous awards to individual exhibitors, showing its standing as an agricultural state.

Gold medals were awarded to the following for fruit exhibits: H. L. Brown of Watertown, orange quince; B. B. Ferris of Albion, twenty-ounce apples; J. A. Hopworth & Son of Milton, Jonathan apples; Grant Hutchings of Syracuse, Northern Spy apples; Pumpkin Sweet apples, twenty-ounce apples; Wolf River apples; R. C. Marshall of Albion, Northern Spy and Rhode Island apples; P. W. Mason of Albion, Roxbury apples; George Pettit of Watertown, Tompkins King apples; Elizabeth Reynolds of Lockport, Baldwins and Tompkins King apples; Leslie Tanner of Medina, Fameuse apples; A. Van Vranken's Sons of Rexford, Delicious, Northern Spy, Wealthy, Winter Banana, Van Vranken's Seedling; Miss C. E. Martin of Auburn, ripe cucumber and green tomato.

Silver medals—Miss C. E. Martin of Auburn, fruit varieties in glass; A. G. Snyder of Albion, Tompkins King apples; C. A. Boller & Son of Solus, Northern Spy apples; F. M. Bradley of Barker, Oldenburg apples; E. W. Catchpole & Son of No. Rose, Ben Davis apples; C. M. Harding of Albion, Baldwin apples; B. H. Henion of Rochester, Albion apples; J. H. Hopworth & Son, Milton, Baldwin, Yellow Newton, Northern Spy and Sutton apples; Grant Hutchings of Syracuse, Alexander and Wealthy apples; W. E. Howard & Sons of Holley, Northern Spy apples; B. G. Wilson of Watertown, Wealthy apples; H. E. Wellman of Kendall, Baldwin apples; Clark Allen of Medina, Rome apples; Seth Allen & Son of Holley, Northern Spy apples; J. S. Beckwith of Albion, Rhode Island apples; C. A. Boller & Son of Solus, Esopus apples; B. J. Case & Co., Solus, Wolf River apples; Mrs. B. L. Chase of Dresden, Northern Spy apples; C. M. Harding of Albion, Tompkins King apples; Grant Hutchings of Syracuse, Tompkins King apples; George R. Schaubert of Ballston Lake, Northern Spy apples; Snyder Bros. of Albion, Northern Spy apples; P. B. Wilson of Watertown, Baldwin apples.

Gold medals—P. E. Dawley of Fayetteville, hay and alfalfa; R. C. Hastings of Malaga, potatoes; Henry Harrison of Brockport, beans; Lincoln Agricultural School, Lincolnville, corn; Henry Lazarus of Dresden, corn; Walter C. Morris of Neperhan Heights, honey; G. T. Quick, Mendon, oats; Cornell University, Ithaca, cheese; Merrell-Soule Co., Syracuse, milk; Winters & Prophet, Mount Morris, peas; Adirondack Maple Co., Spry, Welch Grape Juice Co., juice.

Silver medals—George S. Atkinson of Albion, hay; D. K. Bell of Brighton, corn; J. T. WHITE-CROWNED SPARROW (Zonotrichia leucophrys)

Length, seven inches. The only similar sparrow, the white-throat, has a yellow spot in front of eye.

Range: Breeds in Canada, the mountains of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana, and thence to the Pacific coast; winters in the southern half of the United States and in northern Mexico.

Habits and economic status: This beautiful sparrow is much more numerous in the western than in the eastern states, where, indeed, it is rather rare. In the East it is shy and retiring, but it is much bolder and more conspicuous in the far West and there often frequents gardens and parks. Like most of its family it is a seed eater by preference, and insects comprise very little more than 7 per cent of its diet. Caterpillars are the largest item, with some beetles, a few ants and wasps, and some bugs, among which are black olive scales. The great bulk of food, however, consists of weed seeds, which amount to 74 per cent of the whole. In California this bird is accused of eating the buds and blossoms of fruit trees, but buds or blossoms were found in only 30 out of 516 stomachs, and probably it is only under exceptional circumstances that it does any damage in this way. Evidently neither the farmer nor the fruit grower has much to fear from the white-crowned sparrow. The little fruit it eats is mostly wild, and the grain eaten is waste or volunteer.

S. Cohen's Sons. Twenty per cent reduction until July 4 on all clothing, hats and shoes. S. COHEN'S SONS.

PLUTARCH. Plutarch, June 29.—On account of the storm there was no service in the church here on Sunday last. Several from here attended the funeral of David Polhamus at his late home at Ohioville on Tuesday afternoon. He was well known here, having resided here for a number of years.

Marsten Schoonmaker is spending the summer months at Middle Hope, where he is working. Summer boarders have commenced to arrive in town. Mrs. Aaron Light is at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where she expects to undergo an operation.

Her many friends hope it will be successful and that she will be restored to good health. William Tompkins traded horses with out of town parties on Tuesday. Mrs. Peases of Ohioville spent a few days with Johanna Boland this week. Mrs. P. A. Harker and wife, of Ardonia spent Wednesday last with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormick. The road leading from Ohioville to Rilton is in a very bad condition. We have been promised a good crushed stone road but good things come slow, so we live in hopes. Henry Picken of Kingston spent the week end with his parents here.

MAYOR GUARANTEES AID FOR SOLDIERS

On receipt of a letter from Captain Frank L. Meagher of Company M, which accompanied a complete roster of the company for official use of the city, Mayor Canfield on Thursday night wrote to Captain Meagher assuring him that the citizens of Kingston will not see families of the soldiers in want because of the men's patriotic act.

The correspondence is as follows:
Company M,
10th Infantry, (14th Separate Co.),
Third Brigade, N. G. N. Y.,
Kingston, N. Y.

Hon. Palmer Canfield, Jr., Mayor
Kingston, N. Y.
Dear Sir: I am enclosing you a complete roster of Company M. I am doing this with the idea if Company M is called into service that you as the executive officer of the city will see that no member of the immediate family will be deprived of the necessities of life on account of any member of this organization taken into Federal service.
Sincerely yours,
FRANK L. MEAGHER,
Captain.

Mayor Canfield's Reply.
To the above communication, Mayor Canfield responded as follows.

Office of the Mayor,
City of Kingston, New York,
Kingston, N. Y., June 28th, 1916.
Captain Frank L. Meagher,
Company M, 10th Infantry,
Third Brigade, N. G. N. Y.,
Camp Whitman,
Beekman, N. Y.

My Dear Captain: Your letter at hand. The boys of Company M have voluntarily sacrificed the usual means of earning their livelihood and of those dependent upon them, in behalf of their country. They have given up desired and valued things for the sake of another desired and valued thing, the honor of their nation.

The remaining citizens of Kingston will probably be unable to relieve the uneasiness of mind of the wives and mothers and others who are near and dear to your boys which will be caused by solicitude for their welfare. However, this city and its citizens would indeed be unduly and excessively naked in thought and feeling and patriotically pulseless if it permitted any uneasiness of mind to exist in any of the immediate members of the respective families of the boys of your company because of lack of proper sustenance.

If the drift of sentiment and feeling is indicated by this morning's demonstration at the departure of the company, the citizens of this city will manifest a free and generous heart and an open hand in imparting aid to any members of the families of the boys who may have been wholly or partially dependent upon them. I believe that I can speak for our citizens to the extent that they realize that the families of those who are with you are also indirectly serving their country by the sacrifice and loss which they have yielded and must endure for its sake.

Plans have been formed for a systematic effort of aid and assistance to the families. This will be supplemented as far as possible for the city itself. Fortunately at times, but unfortunately at other times, public aid is restricted by the iron law governing it. This law cannot be broken but it can be bent. This is the occasion when the iron law must be bent into a flexible bow of aid and co-operation. In this case it must be construed and executed in a liberal, yielding and pliant manner, so that the maximum amount of assistance possible will be given. We owe it to these families to encourage and comfort them and to furnish them with proper means of support, so that from a financial standpoint the family can continue as before.

You may tell your boys that they can rest assured that the citizens of Kingston and the city itself will not see the members of their respective families in want because of their patriotic act. The city and its citizens must and will take the place of the boys in respect to their families in a financial way. If any of them receive word from their respective families that they are in want or are not being properly aided and provided for, have them write or telegraph me, and I will personally investigate the matter and see that proper relief is given.

I appreciate your thoughtfulness in writing me at the time of your departure, which, I know, was prompted by your interest in your boys. Give my regards to them and tell them that Kingston is proud of them.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.

JOHN HENRY WAGNER.
VETERAN HANS WAGNER TO BECOME A BENEDICT.

Pittsburgh, June 30.—John Henry Wagner, the veteran Pirate shortstop, is preparing to become a blushing bridegroom. County Detective John G. Smith admitted today that the great Hans will wed Bessie Baine Smith, aged 24, probably at the close of the baseball season next fall. Miss Smith, daughter of the county detective, is a popular young woman of Crafton Heights. She is an enthusiastic baseball fan and has attended nearly every game played here by the Pirates in the last four years. Wagner, as an amateur, played baseball with his intended bride's father on the back lots of Carnegie and Crafton. Smith was a pitcher and is just a few years older than the Pirate shortstop.

LAY IN MEATS FOR THE FOURTH AT Messinger's Saturday Sale

"What makes good meat?" we are often asked. The answer is too long for this space. You may be surprised to know how much besides healthy cattle and scientific slaughtering, as a basis—depends upon the retail butcher. It's the clean, sanitary way we have of storing, handling, cutting and serving that makes this meat market stand out prominently as one especially worth patronizing for your Sunday and Fourth of July meats. Take advantage of our Special Saturday Sale prices and be assured of savings as well as highest quality.

TENTH REGIMENT FIGHTS POISON IVY

Men Had to Drag Heavy Wagon From Railroad to Camp—Biggest Regiment in Camp Whitman.

Stoking Major Chandler's Tenth Regiment song, the members of Company M swept into Camp Whitman late Thursday afternoon, as was exclusively told in Thursday's Freeman, and were kept busy the remainder of the day, and this morning in getting things in shipshape. They are tented in the outskirts of the camp.

The Tenth Regiment, of which Company M is a unit, is the biggest regiment in camp and numbers just 1,815 men, and they have been allotted what is said to be the worst site in the camp. Big patches of poison ivy had to be dug up and buried before the boys could start pitching the tents, and that work took them until nearly 10 o'clock that night.

The Tenth was greeted with cheers by the other guardsmen in camp when they marched from the Green Haven station to its allotment at the extreme northwestern end of the camp.

Company M's detail in charge of the camp equipment found a "sweet" job on their hands when the train pulled into Green Haven, and that was the unloading of the heavy army wagon, which caused them some trouble in loading about the flat car at Rhinecliff. The job was to get it safely off the car and after that to get it over to Camp Whitman. Lacking horses the boys had to drag the heavy wagon.

No other regiment has had to go so far for water as the Tenth. A big tank which was to supply them was not ready and the men had to hike nearly a mile and a half for water. The road to the nearest well is over a steep hill with a stretch of woodland on the top which made the carrying of the water extremely difficult.

The Tenth's camp is pitched on two hillocks with a stretch of low ground between.

The Third battalion from Kingston, Hudson, Catskill and Poughkeepsie were the first to reach the camp while close on their heels came the First battalion of Albany.

Despite the arduous work of pitching the shelter tents and getting things ready and in shape before settling down to enjoy camp life the boys of Company M, as well as the others of the Tenth, are feeling in high spirits, and are only hoping that they will be given a chance to trim Carranza's whiskers.

According to Colonel Klein's figures the Tenth actually numbered fifty-two officers, 1,693 enlisted men, and 70 additional men whose enlistments have not yet been approved.

Those members of Company M who have not yet received their equipment including uniforms and guns, can hardly wait until they are fitted out when they will feel more like soldiers.

Colonel Klein expected to get busy today and seek equipment for the rookies. The regiment brought more rookies into camp than any other, but not a one was without a tent or a blanket Thursday night.

Reports from the camp state that all of the men of Company M are enjoying good health.

Tempted by Diamond, She Fell

A diamond ring robbery on Memorial Day in Newburgh was revealed in the arrests of May Hunter, blonde and pretty, a 19 year old New York girl, who took the ring worth $225 from the room of Nathan Hoffman, 27, the Hoffman Hotel, Newburgh. Two young men, Daniel Cornblom and Alfred Marks of New York, had the ring pawned for $115 of which they gave the girl $40. All are on bail awaiting the action of the Orange county grand jury but it is said there is little likelihood of indictment. She said she took the ring in a moment of temptation, having stepped into Hoffman's room to arrange her hair.

JURY ACQUITS CAPT. TAUSCHER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, June 30.—A verdict of not guilty was returned today in the trial of Captain Hans Tauscher, charged with conspiring to blow up the Welland Canal, in Canada.

Tauscher, who is agent for the Krupp interests in this country, was specifically accused of furnishing the dynamite with which pro-German sympathizers were to blow up the canal.

The defense was based upon the contention that Tauscher, while favoring the German cause, had asked Captain von Papen, former military attaché to the German embassy at Washington, to give him work to do which would not be in violation of the laws of this country.

ABOVE: DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE, BELOW: DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE FOR POST IN IRELAND AND DEVONSHIRE FOR CANADIAN GOVERNORSHIP.

(Duke of Devonshire and Duke of Connaught.)

According to despatches from England the Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, and present governor-general of Canada, is slated to be the representative of royal authority in the six Ulster counties in Ireland which will not come in under the home rule proclamation soon to be put in force.

To succeed Connaught as the royal representative in Canada, the Duke of Devonshire is proposed.

Victor Christian William Cavendish, ninth Duke of Devonshire, is 48 years old and succeeded to the title in 1903 on the death of his uncle.

He owns approximately 186,000 acres of land and mines in Lancashire and Derbyshire. He has served in the House of Commons and was treasurer of the King's Household from 1901 to 1903. Later he became financial secretary of the treasury. He has been Lord Lieutenant of Derbyshire and president of the Territorial Force.

The Duke is the owner of very valuable art collections. He is a member of Brooks, the Marlborough and Turf clubs.

His wife, whom he married in 1892, was formerly Lady Evelyn Fitzmaurice, daughter of the Marquis of Lansdowne. They have two sons and five daughters.

QUARRYVILLE.

A War Time Investment Opportunity!
The development of the Aeroplane is only in its infancy. $100 will enable you to catch this tide at ebb and profit dollar by dollar as it comes to flood.

I say that this boat, when finished, will fly across the Atlantic in 30 hours. It is one-third finished. Has a length of 100 feet, and will carry 40 passengers. Years ago, when Sam P. Bell had perfected the telephone and talked of its wonderful possibilities, he was treated with contempt. A $100 invested then would have made you independent. You know how the big airlines of Germany have flown miles across land and water, carrying heavy equipment. Since the war began the airship industry has made wonderful strides. After eight years of study and experimenting I am ready to offer a limited amount of stock in my company, feeling that it will revolutionize everything in airships. Every dollar I have in the world is invested in this project. I have spent $14,000 in patents and building operations. I would not ask the public for one cent if I could communicate with my friend in Europe. I have a working model 12 feet long. If you can afford to invest $100 in my proposition, I will be glad to talk with you personally and explain every detail. I will be glad to send you full particulars if you cannot call. Fill out the blank and send immediately.

DISPOSITION OF AMERICAN AND CARRANZISTA FORCES.

This shows approximately the present disposition of Gen. Pershing's command and of the Mexican troops in his vicinity. It has been known for some time that Gen. Pershing had moved his headquarters north from Namiquipa to Colonia Dublan, but it was not made public until a few days ago that he had moved all his troops north and abandoned the Namiquipa region. The bulk of his army of 12,000 men is now around Colonia Dublan, strongly entrenched.

So far as known, there are no important Mexican forces between Gen. Pershing and the border, the Juarez garrison, with the exception of a few troops, having gone south to Villa Ahumada. It is known Mexican troops are at the other point indicated, but in what force is not definitely known.

WAR TAX NOT TO BE REPEALED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, June 30.—The plan of administration leaders to repeal a portion of the war stamp tax July 1 has been abandoned. The unlooked-for developments in the Mexican situation promising a need for heavy expenditures during the next year of two are responsible for the change in plan, it was stated at Secretary McAdoo's office. It was declared, however, that the tax act, which expires by limitation December 31, will not be renewed.

The administration leaders had planned to take the stamp tax on deeds, notes, stock certificates, wines, tobacco, theaters, bankers and brokers and cosmetics and perfumery, by repealing a portion of the emergency revenue bill. So much revenue would have to be sacrificed that the treasury cannot afford to carry out the plan, it is stated now.

'THE BOULEVARD' A CITY DISGRACE

One of the worst pieces of road in the county is the section of the Rosendale road that is within the limits of the city of Kingston. The state, county and town of Rosendale co-operated in building a good road from the city limits to Rosendale, but for more than a mile on has to pass over a city "street" in order to reach this road. This "street" was many years ago in a sordid mood of the common council, renamed The Boulevard, which means a broad avenue, especially such an avenue decorated with trees. The city has made a boulevard of a street leading to a cemetery, but has left a street leading to an important section of the county like a mountain trail. The street department does not seem to know that The Boulevard exists.

Newburgh Graduate to Marry.

The first engagement to be announced in the class of 1916 of Newburgh Academy is that of Miss Melvyn Averill Clark of Newburgh and Charles Powell Townsend of Milton. The announcement of the engagement was made at the close of a reception which Mr. and Mrs. George Avery Clark, parents of Miss Clark, held in their home, No. 334 Montgomery street, in honor of Miss Gladys Velle Townsend, sister of the prospective groom, also one of the graduates of the Newburgh Academy, being a member of the class of 1913. In the fall of that year he entered Wesleyan college and will begin his senior year in that institution in the fall. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Townsend, Jr., of Milton.

To Help Get Artificial Limb.

The Rising Sons and Daughters of Benevolence will give a grand reception at Manchester Hall on the Strand on Monday evening for the purpose of raising funds with which to procure an artificial limb for their brother Frederick Elmendorf. Good people will be furnished. George P. Kierat is president of the lodge. The committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. Beatrice Fitzgerald, chairman; Mrs. Anna Van Wyke, treasurer; Mrs. Jessie Johnson, secretary. All members of the lodge are members of the general committee.

THE LITTLE LACEMAKER

By SADIE OLCOTT

"I wish my son would marry and settle down."

These words were spoken by Mrs. Mainwaring of Baltimore to Mrs. Stetson of Providence while the two ladies were listening to the orchestra at the Casino at Luzerne, Switzerland.

"My Alice," replied Mrs. Stetson, "will be out of school within a few days, and I shall have the matrimonial problem for her on my hands."

"How I wish," rejoined Mrs. Mainwaring, "that I could get her for Dick."

"I should be very happy at the alliance, I assure you; but, from what you say, your son will not marry."

"He will fall in love with some innocent country girl, unsophisticated and uneducated."

The result of this dialogue when concluded was a scheme to throw together Alice Stetson as a Swiss lacemaker and Dick Mainwaring. When Miss Alice returned from school the plan was proposed to her not as one to make a match for her, but as a lark. She was by no means averse to it. Dick was on the way from Italy to join his mother, and when he arrived he found domesticated with her a very pretty girl dressed in the attractive costume of the country, filling an order for lace.

Alice, who took the name of Gretchen and was supposed to speak only German—the language of eastern Switzerland—sat in a chair before a board on which she worked the threads. A real lacemaker had taught her to do the simplest kind of work, which was all that was needed.

Upon his arrival, seeing the little lacemaker at work in his mother's boudoir, he went up behind her and watched her work. Believing her to be unconscious of his presence, he said: "Frau, your delicate fingers are well adapted to such work."

Gretchen turned and, seeing a young man bending over her, appeared to be very much disconcerted and made no reply, proceeding with her work. Mainwaring, thinking that the girl did not understand English, repeated what he had said in German.

"Ach, herr," she replied, "you flatter me."

Dick heard his mother approaching and, not caring to be caught chatting with her employee, walked away. But Gretchen was always there—that is, when Dick was there—and it was as impossible for him to keep away from her as for a bee to ignore a flower. Alice may have just left school, but she had a woman's natural spidery instinct in catching a fly. She waited till Dick began to say tender things to her, then mildly reproved him for talking thus to one so far beneath him. The next stage was that she listened to him, but reminded him that if his mother came to suspect that he was saying things she would discharge her employee at once. Here forbidden fruit came up to make life all the more interesting for the young Lothario, and it was not long before he endeavored to steal a kiss.

The lacemaker put him away with a look so reproachful that it made him feel as if he had been stealing pennies from a Salvation Army children's fresh air fund. He stammered an apology, but she told him that if he respected himself and wished her to respect him he must not speak to her again unless in the presence of his mother. However, on his promise not to try to steal any more kisses he might occasionally say a very few words.

It must be admitted that Dick was at a disadvantage. Miss Stetson was a lady, quite a beauty, with a very soft voice and softer eyes, and to crown all she was dressed in one of the prettiest national costumes in the world. Within three days she began to interfere with Dick's day dreams, and as for his night dreams he was unable to sleep. He tossed about in bed, lamenting the fact that the lacemaker was only a poor Swiss girl with whom an alliance would be impossible. Now and again he would resolve to throw common sense to the winds; then would bring himself up with a round turn, wondering if he had become insane.

One morning he entered his mother's boudoir, expecting to find the lacemaker, but instead found the room vacant. It seemed as if some one had turned off a thousand candle power electric light. Mrs. Mainwaring came into the room, and Dick asked:

"M-mother, what's become of your little lacemaker?"

"Oh, she finished the work I gave her to do and has gone home."

Dick said nothing further, but his mother watched his woe-begone expression with satisfaction.

The next evening at the Casino Mrs. Mainwaring introduced her son to her friend, Miss Stetson. Miss Stetson in Joseph's persona was chatting with a handsome American gentleman. When Dick was introduced she bowed graciously. Dick was dumfounded. As soon as he could speak to his mother without being overheard he asked what it all meant. He was told that Miss Stetson was a girl of the new woman order and had learned to support herself by making lace. When she took a job she adopted the position and costume of an operative and preferred not to be recognized as a lady.

When Alice's attendant left her and Dick joined her, in her eye was a merry twinkle. As for Dick, the great relief in his heart found expression in his radiant countenance.

CATCHER OF TODAY IS WALKING FORTRESS

Catchers are protected by all sorts and manners of armor. They have masks, mitts, chest protectors and bands on their shins to shield them from foul tips. In only one place are they liable to injury. This is their neck. Occasionally a foul hits them there, and the injury is not only unusually painful but dangerous.

Jack Lapp, now catcher of the White Sox, was struck there some years ago, and for a few days it was feared he had lost the power of speech. Even today his voice is not what it was before he was hurt.

Lapp has tried all sorts of contrivances to protect his neck, but in no instance have they proved practicable. A man who comes along with a real idea will be welcomed by the vast army of backstoppers.

Sometimes a mask breaks under the shock of a foul tip, and more than one catcher has narrowly escaped having his eye permanently injured. Some backstops, like Billy Sullivan, resolder their masks, but this makes it so heavy it becomes a burden.

Catching is, in short, some job. He not only has to give signals, watch every move on the bases, jolly his pitcher and block runners off the plate, even though it means danger from spikes, but he is so loaded down by equipment that he is a walking fortress.

DIAMOND NOTES

The Reds are playing a bangup game at present.

Alex McCarthy is playing a grand game at second base.

Covaleski is the star of the Detroit pitching staff at present.

Washington, with a team in the first division, is drawing poor crowds.

Lee Fohl is certain he will develop Grover Lowdermilk into a dependable hurler.

It doesn't always follow that a ball club is on the market when it's under the hammer.

The venerable and doddering Nap Lajoie seems to have slumped into his second clouthood.

"Ed" Walsh, famous pitcher of the White Sox, is seeking a job as a minor league umpire.

The great showing of the Giants pitchers reflects glory on their coach, 2. Sebastian Down.

Lee Fohl isn't much of a manager. He is just a poor simp who has piloted a team into first place.

Three-Finger Brown is to retire from baseball at the close of the present season, according to report.

A recent report is that Benny Kauff leads Ty Cobb in everything but batting, fielding and scoring runs.

Elmer Knott, who has been on trial with the Reds, has been taken over permanently from the Braves.

"Bill" Rariden is rated as a .280 hitter, but pitchers have a wholesome respect for him with runners on bases.

Fielder Jones may be speaking the truth when he says he has a good team, but we haven't seen him out driving yet.

While the makeshift outfield is working pretty well for Cincinnati, Charley Horzoc is looking far and wide for an outfielder or two.

Rodriguez, the Cuban first baseman, who could not hit with the Giants, is going at a .320 clip for New London, in the Eastern league.

Pick, of the Athletics, holds the season's record for stolen bases. He pilfered four on Grover Hartley, one-time Giant, now of the Browns, in a recent game.

BIG FAVORITE IN MILWAUKEE

Roger Bresnahan Has Good Reasons for Love of Cream City—Made Record for Slugging.

Roger Bresnahan, former pilot of the Cubs and now the head of the Toledo ball club in the American association, is a great favorite in Milwaukee, and every time he visits the city of brew it brings back fond memories to him.

The duke once established a world's record for hitting there. It was in 1901, when Bresnahan was with Baltimore, in the year the American league was born.

Connie Mack was manager of the Brewers that year, the Athletics not being in existence.

The occasion of the record performance was during a double-header. Mack used Pink Hawley in the first game and Billy Reidy in the second, and Bresnahan enjoyed a batting machine.

In the first game, Roger cracked out three home runs and three triples

at the expense of Hawley, and in the second he rapped Reidy for two doubles and three singles—a total of 23 bases.

Although it is 16 years since Roger performed so valiantly, there are fans at every game here who talk about that afternoon, and who live in the hope that they will again see the iron duke duplicate his feat.

Features at Opening Game.

One feature of the opening game of the season at Portland was the release of several hundred pigeons on the ball yard, making a beautiful sight as they flew away. Another feature was the hitting of two home runs by Bunny Brief of Salt Lake, which was not nearly so beautiful to Portland fans. Brief got three other hits besides his homers in five times at bat.

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

PROFIT IN RAISING TURKEYS

Farmers Are Cautioned to Give Marketing Problems More Attention—Best Birds for Breeding.

For those who conduct the business carefully turkey raising is likely to be very profitable. The demand in this country continues to increase, apparently, faster than the supply. Farmers who go into the business, however, are cautioned to give the marketing problem considerable attention in advance.

In the turkey publications of the United States department of agriculture, which is Farmers' Bulletin No. 200, the following rules for selecting turkeys for breeding are given:

First—Always use as breeders turkey hens over one year old. Be sure they are strong, healthy, and vigorous, and of good medium size. In no instance select the smaller ones. Do not strive to have them unnaturally large.

Second—The male may be a yearling or older. Do not imagine that large, overgrown males are best. Strength, health, and vigor, with well-proportioned, medium size, are the main points of excellence.

Third—Avoid close breeding. New blood is of vital importance to turkeys.

The Great American Bird.

Better send a thousand miles for a new male than to risk the chances of inbreeding. Secure one in fall so as to be assured of his health and vigor prior to the breeding season.

BETTER ATTENTION TO EGGS

They Should Be Uniform in Color and Shape, and Regular in Size as Far as Possible.

More attention should be paid to eggs at all times and under all circumstances. This means that they should be uniform in color and shape and regular in size as far as possible. If they had more attention paid to them at our fairs and were brought to the notice of the public and the farmers in particular, much good would come from it. Let us offer good prizes for a display of eggs, say not less than three dozen, and have it stipulated that they be strictly fresh; that no cold storage stock need apply for the sake of selecting for size. If such a plan were carried out at a number of our fairs for a few years the selection of good eggs would get to be a science and would interest the poultry public to a great degree, and be of untold benefit to all of us, whether as producers or consumers of eggs.

GOOD POULTRY FEED ADVICE

Poor Economy to Give Fowls but One Kind of Grain—Make Them Exercise by Scratching.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain, for that compels them to eat more than they ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements.

A large part of the egg is water, which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure clear water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected.

A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching for whole and cracked grains in a deep litter of clean material and jumping for green food, such as a cabbage or mangels.

Fattening Water Fowls.

By putting some care into the fattening of water fowls the farmer's wife will be able to realize more out of them. She will be in shape to solicit orders for fine table water fowl, and once her name is established she will have more orders for them than she can fill.

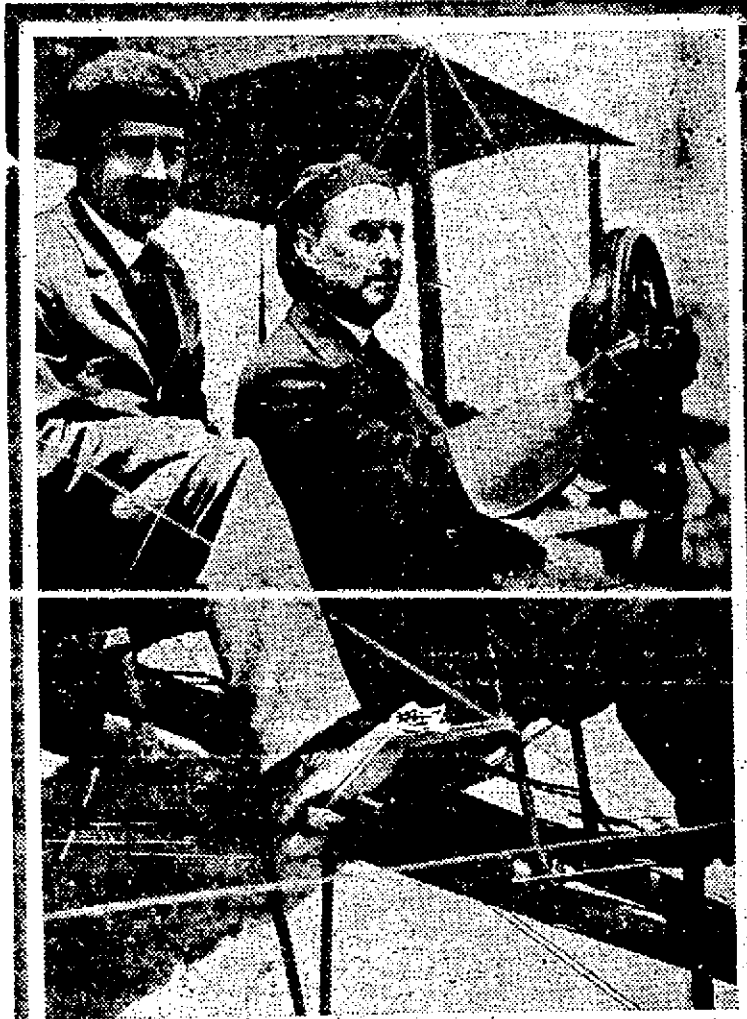

Drafts Mean Roup.

A draft in the poultry house means roup in the flock. Prevention is the best method and much cheaper than the cure.

(By La Racontense).

Silk jersey sport coats are very modish at the present time and may be had in many attractive color combinations. Among the most popular are the green, blue, rose, yellow and orange stripes on a white ground. The average length is from hip or knee, the latter undoubtedly being very smart, but only becoming on the tall woman. In the illustration white and green is adapted. The roomy pockets, narrow belt and deep reverse collar are interesting features.

CALIFORNIA FLYERS OFFER SERVICES TO NATIONAL GUARD.

Members of the Pacific Aero Club in California are eager to enlist as a state squadron, to go to the border with the National Guard and have offered to place the eight aero-plane and three observation balloons with pilots at the disposition of the California Guard officers.

The picture shows J. C. Irvine, president of the Pacific Aero Club, at the wheel of his machine, and Guy T. Slaughter, vice-president of the club, two of the leaders in the volunteer movement.

McCORMICK GETS CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY.

(Vance McCormick at his desk in the Democratic Headquarters.)
New York, June 30.—The Democratic campaign for the coming election is now fairly started. Vance McCormick, the new chairman of the National Democratic Committee, with a score or more of assistants, has taken possession of the Democratic headquarters here and is busy arranging the details of the campaign for President's Wilson's re-election.

Washington, June 30.—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; gentle northerly winds.

Libraries for National Guard.

An arrangement has been made by the New York State Library whereby the men at the front will be supplied with books. Each regiment or independent unit of the state forces will be sent libraries of from 50 to 250 volumes which may be kept until a fresh supply is needed, in accordance with a system similar to that used in English, French and German armies. These libraries will include books on military science, engineering, topography and similar subjects for the instruction of officers and men, books on Mexican and the southern American states, recent books on American history, social conditions, literature and good fiction. The quartermaster's department is expected to arrange for the distribution of the books and for keeping the proper charging records. In addition to this loan service the State Library will arrange for the forwarding and distribution to the troops of such books of a similar nature and of such periodicals as individuals, libraries, clubs or other organizations may care to contribute. If the publications upon examination prove to be suitable for the purpose. This material may be sent to the State Library, which will bear the transportation charges, but only such books and magazines should be included as are likely to be of real interest and value. Duplicate copies of books or those no longer of use in libraries can be used to advantage, if not too badly soiled or worn. Shipments should be addressed to New York State Library, Albany, N. Y., and notification of shipment mailed to same address.

Party at West Hurley.

An apron and necktie party will mark the opening of the boarding season at the Biesel boarding farm at West Hurley on Monday evening, July 3. The features of the evening will be dancing, games and music. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the games and a pleasant evening is anticipated. Guests will be present from New York city, Brooklyn, Kingston, Hurley and West Hurley.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, June 30.—Some day the baseball magnates will awaken to the fact that it would be awfully good advertising if they permitted the fans to keep all the baseballs that are batted into the stands during the progress of a regular game.

In every ball park in the country there always is a mad scramble among the folks to grab—and to keep—a ball that has been clouted among them. Some Puritans claim that the action of a fan in keeping a ball sizes up as petty larceny; legally, that is true. But the fan isn't taking the ball because of its material value, but because of sentiment.

Some few days ago a ball was fouled into the Polo Grounds grand stand. Three fans, who in real life are dignified business men, made a free-for-all fight for the possession of a $1.25 ball. The quartet rowed so long and so vigorously over that ball that a guardian of the law came along and "jugged" them.

Now those three fans were men of ample means. They had enough money, collectively, to buy probably 200,000 baseballs. But they didn't want any old baseball. They wanted the ball that the big leaguers had played with; one they could keep as a souvenir; something to show to their friends in after years.

Paid $25 for $1.25 ball. Back in the 1912 world series conflict between the Red Sox and Giants, Tris Speaker lanned out a triple that tied up the game, and sent the series to eight games. The ball was fouled into the stands by the next batter. A fan got it. A neighboring "bug" rushed over and made a bid for that ball.

"I'll give you $25 for it," he said. "Why are you so anxious to get this ball?" the other asked. "Because I want something that I can show to my friends—a real souvenir of a ball game," replied the other. "Speaker always has been my favorite. I've seen him play a hundred times. I always wanted something to bring him into closer memory. That ball you have there will do it. It's the one Tris hit and which probably has saved us from losing this game."

And that fan got the ball. Fan's Ambition is Souvenir. So it is everywhere around the circuit. Baseball fans—the radicals—are so anxious to get a baseball that has history attached to it, that they willingly risk arrest for petty theft. They are willing to fight among themselves for such a ball. If necessary. A blackened optic or a busted bumper, in their opinion, is a mere incident—if they only get that pellet.

The magnates know this feeling among the fans, yet none ever has come forward and told random that it was their balls that were batted into the stands. The magnates, to date, have been too miserly and too thick. They see only that each ball that is crubbed by a fan means a direct money loss to them. They fail to realize that a rule allowing fans to keep the ball would be a stroke of good stroke of business.

Often times we have counted the number of baseballs that are sent to the stands during the progress of a game. Some days it ran up to eight or ten. On other occasions the total has been two or three. At any rate, the average is not beyond six per game. At $1.25 each, that means the magnates would lose $9 per day if they did permit the fans to retain the balls batted into the stands. Seems to us, from what we know about fans, that the mere fact that there was a chance of their getting a souvenir baseball would draw at least a dozen extra fans a day. Six baseballs divided among 5,000 to 7,000 fans doesn't give any one person a real big chance. But the fans, as a rule, are willing to gamble on their individual chance of getting one of the six balls.

The magnate who first adopts such a rule will be like a miserly man. The fan doesn't like miserliness—and he doesn't like liberality, and a show of good fellowship. He will whoop 'er up for the first magnate who tells him he can keep those balls. And the magnate will become a small-size hero.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, June 29.—Miss Tressa Myers has returned home for the summer vacation, after spending the winter at Hunter's College, New York city. Miss Myers has taken up a four year course and passed her examinations with honor.

Mrs. Laura Broadhead of Ellenville spent a few days the past week with her sister, Mrs. Edward Van Demark. Mrs. Mary Carman died at the home of Myron Wood at Ellenville on Thursday of last week. The funeral will be held on Sunday at 2 o'clock at the house. Burial at Faintekill in the family plot. Deceased was 81 years 8 months of age and was a member of the M. E. Hot L'ners.

(By Frank G. Menke.)
Shawkey beat his old team mates and enabled the Yanks to tighten their hold on first place.

Are the Indians going to slump now that they have lost the lead?
The Phillies gave the Giants a double dose. Not much jinx chasing in that.

The Tigers were swept out of the first division. So were the Red Sox. The newcomers in the front ranks are the White Sox.

The managers in the National are asking, "Who is going to stop the Dodgers?" The Robins seem to check any such attempt.

Four shut-outs marked the nine games played yesterday. The Giants, Athletics, Red Sox and Indians were the victims.
